Grammar

Talking about the future: Simple Future (will) & Be going to Use will for decisions made at the moment of speaking, promises, offers, and predictions without evidence.

Use be going to for plans already decided before speaking and predictions based on present evidence.

Konuşma anında verilen kararlar, sözler, teklifler ve kanıta dayanmayan tahminler için 'will' kullanılır.

Konuşmadan önce zaten karar verilmiş planlar ve mevcut kanıta dayanan tahminler için 'be going to' kullanılır.

When? We use will for spontaneous decisions ('I'll answer that') and be going to for plans ('I'm going to study tonight').

Ani kararlar için 'will' ('Ben cevaplarım'), planlar için 'be going to' ('Bu akşam ders çalışacağım') kullanılır.

Positive

- I will (I'll) revise tonight.
- We are (we're) going to study together.

Negative

- I will not (won't) forget my homework.
- She is not (isn't) going to use her phone in class.

9. Which sentence is a spontaneous offer?

- a. I'll carry your books. ✓
- b. I'm going to carry your books tomorrow.
- c. I carry your books.
- d. I carried your books.

Spontaneous offers use will.

Advice and obligation: should/ought to, must/have to, and question tags

Use should/ought to for advice and recommendations. Use must for strong personal obligation or rules from the speaker, and have to for obligation coming from outside (a rule, a teacher, a schedule). Add a question tag to a statement to check information: positive statement + negative tag, negative statement + positive tag.

Tavsiye ve öneri için 'should/ought to' kullanılır. Konuşanın kendi koyduğu güçlü bir zorunluluk için 'must', dışarıdan gelen bir zorunluluk (kural, öğretmen, program) için 'have to' kullanılır. Bilgiyi teyit etmek için cümlelerin sonuna bir soru eki eklenir: olumlu cümle + olumsuz soru eki, olumsuz cümle + olumlu soru eki.

When? We use should/ought to when giving advice, must for strong rules or feelings, have to for outside obligation, and question tags when checking or confirming information in conversation.

Tavsiye verirken 'should/ought to', güçlü kurallar veya kişisel görüşler için 'must', dışarıdan gelen zorunluluk için 'have to', konuşmada bilgi teyit ederken soru ekleri kullanılır.

Reflexive & possessive pronouns, can, and might

Reflexive pronouns (myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves, themselves) show that the subject and object of an action are the same. Possessive pronouns (mine, yours, his, hers, ours, theirs) and 's show ownership. Can is used for ability, permission, requests, or possibility. Might is used for a weaker, less certain possibility than may or can.

Dönüşlü zamirler (myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves, themselves) eylemin öznesi ve nesnesinin aynı kişi olduğunu gösterir. İyelik zamirleri (mine, yours, his, hers, ours, theirs) ve 's eki sahiplik bildirir. 'Can' yetenek, izin, rica veya olasılık için kullanılır. 'Might', 'may' veya 'can'e göre daha zayıf, daha az kesin bir olasılık bildirir.

When? We use reflexive pronouns when the subject does the action to itself, possessives to avoid repeating a noun, can for everyday requests/permission, and might when we are not sure something will happen.

Özne eylemi kendine yaparken dönüşlü zamir, bir ismi tekrar etmemek için iyelik zamiri, günlük rica/izinlerde 'can', bir şeyin olup olmayacağından emin olunmadığında 'might' kullanılır.

Positive

- I did it myself.
- This book is hers.
- You can use the tablet.
- It might rain later.

Negative

- He didn't do it himself.
- This isn't mine.
- You can't use your phone now.
- We might not finish today.

Question

- Did you write it yourself?
- Is this pen yours?
- Can I ask a question?

Short answers

- Yes, you can. / No, you can't.
- It might. / It might not.

Common mistakes

- ~~She hurt herself's arm.~~ → She hurt her arm herself.
- ~~This is the book of Mert.~~ → This is Mert's book.

1. I fixed the settings on the tablet all by _____.
- a. myself ✓
 - b. mine
 - c. me
 - d. my

The reflexive pronoun myself matches the subject I.

2. These headphones are _____ (belonging to me), not yours. (mine)

Mine is the possessive pronoun for I.

3. Can I to borrow your pen? — True / False (Incorrect — Can I borrow your pen?)

4. I'm not sure about my plans, but I _____ join the study group tonight. (might)

Might expresses an uncertain possibility.

5. Whose notebook is this? It's _____.
- a. Elif's ✓
 - b. Elif
 - c. Elif is
 - d. of Elif

's shows possession for a person's name.

6. Rewrite using a reflexive pronoun: 'He learned to use the app without any help.' He taught himself to use the app. / He learned to use the app by himself.

7. Put the words in order: I / your / borrow / laptop / can
Can I borrow your laptop?

8. Rewrite to express a weaker possibility: 'We will have an online quiz tomorrow.' (not certain) We might have an online quiz tomorrow.

9. This is not our classroom; it's _____ (belonging to them). (theirs)

Theirs is the possessive pronoun for they.

A Day in Our Classroom

Before you read

- Look at the title. What kinds of activities do you expect in a typical school day?
- Think about your own favourite classroom activity before you read.

Every morning, our classroom is full of different learning activities. In the first lesson, we usually work in pairs and check our homework together. Our teacher walks around the room, listens to our conversations, and gives quick feedback when we make a mistake. Some students prefer working alone, but most of us enjoy pair work because we can help each other understand new words.

Later in the day, we often do a short presentation. Each group chooses a topic, prepares a few slides, and speaks in front of the class. At first, many students feel nervous, but after a few presentations, they become more confident. Presentations are also a great way to practise pronunciation and organise ideas clearly.

In the afternoon, we sometimes use a tablet or a computer for an online quiz. This is going to be a normal part of every lesson soon, because our school is going to buy more digital devices next year. Some students are visual learners and remember new grammar better when they see a diagram on the screen, while others are auditory learners and prefer listening to a short recording.

At the end of the day, the teacher gives us a handout with revision notes and says, 'You should read this at home tonight.' Not every student agrees on the best learning style, but everyone must complete the homework by the next lesson. For most of us, a mix of pair work, presentations, and technology makes learning more interesting than just reading from a book.

1. What happens during the first lesson, according to the text?

- a. Students watch a video alone.
- b. Students work in pairs and check homework. ✓
- c. Students take a test.
- d. Students clean the classroom.

Paragraph 1 says students usually work in pairs and check homework together.

2. According to the text, all students feel confident the first time they give a presentation. — True / False
(Incorrect — Many students feel nervous at first and become more confident after a few presentations.)

3. Why does the school plan to buy more digital devices?

- a. Because students dislike technology.
- b. Because online quizzes will become a normal part of every lesson. ✓
- c. Because the teacher wants a new phone.
- d. The text doesn't say.

The text says the school is going to buy more devices because online quizzes are going to become normal.

4. According to the text, visual learners remember grammar better when they see a _____ on the screen.
(diagram)

Paragraph 3 mentions visual learners and diagrams.

5. What must every student do, according to the text?

- AbOnlineEnglish Upper Secondary — 10. Sınıf — Answer Key · Orijinal içerik, TYMM müfredatıyla uyumlu.
- a. Buy a tablet.
 - b. Complete the homework by the next lesson. ✓
 - c. Give a presentation every day.
 - d. Choose only one learning style.

The text states everyone must complete the homework by the next lesson.

6. The text says a mix of pair work, presentations, and technology makes learning more interesting for most students. — True / False (Correct)

After you read

- Which activity from the text is most similar to something you do in your own classroom?
- Do you agree that a mix of activities makes learning more interesting? Why?

Finding Your Own Learning Style

Before you read

- What do you think 'learning style' means?
- Guess one way you learn best before reading the text.

Not every student learns in the same way, and understanding your own learning style can make studying easier. Some people are visual learners: they remember information better when they see it as a picture, colour, or diagram. Other people are auditory learners, who understand a new grammar point more easily after listening to an explanation or a recording rather than reading it silently.

There is also a third common style, sometimes called hands-on or kinaesthetic learning. Students with this style often say that they learn best by doing something practical, such as acting out a dialogue, building a model, or moving around the classroom during an activity. If you often find yourself doodling in the margin of your notebook, you might actually be a hands-on learner who needs movement to concentrate.

Of course, most students are not only one type. You might be mainly a visual learner but still enjoy listening to a short podcast, and you should try different methods before deciding what works best for you. A simple way to discover your style is to keep a short learning diary for two weeks and write down which activities helped you remember new vocabulary or grammar most easily.

Teachers can support different learning styles by mixing activities: showing a diagram for visual learners, playing a short recording for auditory learners, and adding a hands-on task like a role-play for kinaesthetic learners. As a student, you don't have to wait for the teacher to do this — you can also adapt your own revision at home, for example by turning your notes into a mind map, a short recording, or flashcards you can hold and sort.

1. What is true about auditory learners, according to the text?

- a. They prefer moving around the classroom.
- b. They remember information better through listening. ✓
- c. They never use diagrams.
- d. They dislike podcasts.

Paragraph 1 explains that auditory learners understand better after listening.

2. A student who often doodles in the margin might actually be a _____ learner. (hands-on / kinaesthetic)

AbOnlinEnglish Upper Secondary — 10. Sınıf — Answer Key — Orijinal içerik, TYMM müfredatıyla uyumlu.
Paragraph 2 links doodling and movement to hands-on/kinaesthetic learning.

3. According to the text, most students belong to only one single learning style. — True / False (Incorrect — Most students are not only one type; they can combine different learning styles.)

4. What does the text suggest as a way to discover your own learning style?

- a. Ask a friend to guess.
- b. Keep a short learning diary for two weeks. ✓
- c. Only use flashcards.
- d. Avoid all technology.

Paragraph 3 recommends keeping a short learning diary.

5. According to the last paragraph, what can students do at home without waiting for the teacher?

- a. Nothing, they must wait for class.
- b. Adapt their own revision, e.g. mind maps or flashcards. ✓
- c. Change the school timetable.
- d. Only listen to recordings.

The final paragraph says students can adapt their own revision at home.

6. The text suggests teachers should only use one type of activity to be fair to every learning style. — True / False (Incorrect — The text suggests teachers should mix different activities to support different learning styles.)

After you read

- Which learning style described in the text sounds most like you?
- What is one new study method from the text that you might try this week?

Planning Our Class Project

Before you listen

- What do groups usually need to decide before starting a class project?
- Predict one thing the students might disagree about.

1. What are Deniz and Elif's project about?

- a. School rules
- b. Learning styles ✓
- c. Sports activities
- d. School trips

3. The teacher said the project doesn't need any information about technology. — True / False (Incorrect — The teacher said they must add a section about using apps or devices for revision.)

4. What does Elif offer to use for the presentation?

- a. A printed book
- b. Her own tablet ✓
- c. The school computer
- d. A phone camera only

Elif says she might use her own tablet to make the presentation.

5. When will Deniz and Elif meet again?

- a. Monday
- b. Tuesday
- c. Thursday ✓
- d. Friday

Deniz says they'll meet again on Thursday.

Transcript (teacher use)

Deniz Okay, so for our project on learning styles, what are we going to do first?

Elif I think we should make a short survey and ask our classmates about their favourite way of studying.

Deniz Good idea. I'll design the questions tonight, and you can ask people tomorrow, right?

Elif Sure. We also have to include some information about technology, don't we?

Deniz Yes, the teacher said we must add at least one section about using apps or devices for revision.

Elif Okay. I might use my own tablet to make a simple presentation, if that's fine with you.

Deniz That's a great idea. Can I help you choose the pictures for the slides?

Elif Of course! And we shouldn't forget the handout — the teacher wants a printed summary too.

AbOnlinEnglish Upper Secondary — 10. Sınıf — Answer Key · Orijinal içerik, TYMM müfredatıyla uyumlu.
Deniz Right. I'll finish the survey questions by myself tonight, and we'll meet again on Thursday.

Elif Perfect. This project is going to be really interesting, isn't it?

Transcript (teacher use)

Narrator Hi, I'm Kaan, and I want to share how I study for English lessons.

Narrator First, you should always revise your notes on the same day, not just before a test.

Narrator I usually make my own flashcards, and I test myself every evening for about ten minutes.

Narrator You don't have to use expensive materials — a simple notebook is enough.

Narrator I'm a visual learner, so I often turn new grammar rules into small diagrams or colour codes.

Narrator If you're not sure about your own learning style, you might try a few different methods this month.

Narrator I also use a vocabulary app on my phone, but I must remember to close social media apps first!

Narrator Finally, ask your teacher for feedback regularly — it really helps you see your progress.
