Book alignment

Theme	This theme follows the topic scope of Theme 6 (Ders Kitabı pp. 75–86) on expressing regret, criticism, and certainty about the past, using entirely original material.
Outcome	The 24 outcome statements were written originally to match the communicative goals of Theme 6's subthemes on past criticism and certainty.
Vocabulary	23 original words and expressions on feelings, relationships and reflecting on the past were written with original example sentences, not the book's own text.
Grammar	Two original grammar sections cover should have/could have and might have/must have/couldn't have, matching the book's grammar scope for pp. 75–86 with fully original examples.
Reading	Two original reading passages (Deniz and Ela's friendship; the missing birthday cake) were written to match the theme's topic scope without copying any text from the book.
Listening	Two original listening scripts (a friendship apology and a classroom mystery) were written to practise the theme's target structures in natural dialogue.
Speaking	Two original speaking tasks give students practice criticising past decisions and speculating about past events in pairs and groups.
Writing	Two original writing tasks ask students to write a regretful letter and a speculative paragraph, both fully original in content.
Assessment	An original review set and full test cover all skills for Theme 6, matching the book's topic and grammar scope for pp. 75–86.
