Simple Present vs Present Progressive + Adverbs of Frequency

1 · NOTICE

- In Finland, the school day usually starts at 9 a.m.
- Look — the students in this photo are wearing everyday clothes, not uniforms.
- Our school always holds an assembly on Mondays, but this week we are having it on Tuesday because of the holiday.
- She rarely misses school, but today she is missing the first lesson because of a dentist appointment.

Which sentences describe something that usually happens, and which describe something happening right now or temporarily? Where do the adverbs of frequency (always, rarely) go?

2 · DISCOVER — A · COMPLETE THE RULE

Look at the Notice sentences again. Complete the rule with the words in the box.

is/are + -ing

before the main verb

base verb (+s/es)

temporary or right now

1. For things that usually / generally happen, we use the Simple Present: _____.
2. For things happening right now or _____, we use the Present Progressive: _____.
3. Adverbs of frequency (always, usually, rarely) usually go _____.

B Build sentences

Use the cues to build true sentences. Choose Simple Present or Present Progressive.

e.g.

Finnish students

usually / start school at 9 a.m.

Finnish students usually start school at 9 a.m.

1. our school always / hold assembly on Mondays

2. this week / we have it on Tuesday (now)

3. she rarely / miss school

4. look — the students wear everyday clothes (right now)

5. ? / your school ever / celebrate an international day

C Your turn

Write four sentences about your own school day: one general routine, one thing you rarely/always do, and one thing happening this week that is different from usual.

My school usually...

I always/rarely...

This week, we are...

Right now, our class...

RULE

The Simple Present describes facts, habits and things that happen regularly (add -s/-es with he/she/it). The Present Progressive (be + -ing) describes something happening now or temporarily. Adverbs of frequency (always, usually, often, rarely, never) go before the main verb, but after the verb 'be'.

TR Simple Present, genel gerçekleri, alışkanlıkları ve düzenli olan şeyleri anlatır (he/she/it ile -s/-es). Present Progressive (be + -ing) ise şu anda olan ya da geçici olan bir durumu anlatır. Sıklık zarfları (always, usually, often, rarely, never) ana fiilden ÖNCE, be fiilinden SONRA gelir.

When?

Use the Simple Present for timetables, habits and general rules; use the Present Progressive for something happening now, or a temporary change this week or term.

TR Okul programlarını, alışkanlıkları ve genel kuralları anlatırken Simple Present; şu anda olan bir şeyi ya da bu hafta/dönem geçici bir değişikliği anlatırken Present Progressive kullanınız.

POSITIVE	NEGATIVE	QUESTION	SHORT ANSWERS
School usually starts at 9. We are having assembly today.	He doesn't wear a uniform. They aren't studying Chemistry this term.	Does your school celebrate national days? Is she wearing the new uniform?	Yes, it does. / No, it doesn't. Yes, she is. / No, she isn't.

X WRONG	✓ RIGHT	WHY?
She is always missing the bus.	She always misses the bus.	For a repeated habit (not a complaint), use the Simple Present, not the Progressive. TR Sürekli tekrar eden bir alışkanlık için Simple Present kullanılır; 'always' burada şikayet anlamı taşıyor.
Look, she wears a new badge today!	Look, she is wearing a new badge today!	Something you can see happening right now needs the Present Progressive. TR Şu anda gözlemlenen bir durum için Present Progressive gerekir.
He always is late.	He is always late.	With the verb 'be', the frequency adverb comes after it. TR 'be' fiiliyle sıklık zarfı fiilden SONRA gelir.

- Shall I read the announcement to the class?
- Can you explain the new timetable to me?

Which modal verbs make a request sound very polite/formal, and which one offers to do something for someone?

2 · DISCOVER — A · COMPLETE THE RULE

Complete the rule with the words in the box.

offer to do something may / could can / could

- To ask someone politely to do something, we use _____ + subject + base verb.
- _____ + I is a very formal way to ask for permission or information.
- 'Shall I...?' is used to _____ for someone.

B Build sentences

1. Explain the timetable. (can)

2. Ask a question. (may)

3. Read the announcement. (shall, offer)

4. Open the window. (could)

C Your turn

Write three polite requests or offers you could make at school this week — one with 'could', one with 'may', and one offer with 'shall'.

Could you...

May I...

Shall I...

RULE

Use can/could to make polite requests (could is more formal/polite). Use may/might to ask permission very formally. Use 'Shall I...?' to offer to do something for someone.

TR Nazik ricalar için can/could kullanılır (could daha resmi/naziktir). May/might izin isterken çok resmi bir ton verir. 'Shall I...?' bir şey yapmayı teklif etmek için kullanılır.

When?

We use these patterns when we ask a teacher, a guest or someone we don't know well for something, or when we offer to help.

TR Öğretmenden, misafirden ya da tanımadığın birinden bir şey isterken ya da bir şey teklif ederken bu kalıpları kullanırız.

POSITIVE	NEGATIVE	QUESTION	SHORT ANSWERS
Could you help me, please? Shall I close the door?	You may not use your phone during the test. Could you not talk so loudly, please?	May I leave early today? Can you repeat that, please?	Of course. / I'm afraid not. Yes, please. / No, thanks, it's fine.

X WRONG	✓ RIGHT	WHY?
Can I to ask a question?	Can I ask a question?	Modal verbs are followed by the base verb, without 'to'. TR Modal fiillerden sonra 'to' kullanılmaz.
Shall you help me?	Shall I help you? / Could you help me?	'Shall' is normally used with I/we to make an offer. TR 'Shall' genelde ben/biz özneleriyle teklif için kullanılır.

- Your school starts at nine, doesn't it?
- You aren't in the exchange programme, are you?
- She teaches Geography, doesn't she?
- We're preparing for the ceremony, aren't we?

When the main sentence is positive, is the tag positive or negative? What happens after a negative sentence?

2 · DISCOVER — A · COMPLETE THE RULE

Complete the rule with the words in the box.

negative positive same auxiliary/be verb

1. A positive sentence takes a _____ tag.
2. A negative sentence takes a _____ tag.
3. The tag uses the _____ as the main sentence (does/doesn't, is/isn't...).

B Build sentences

C Your turn

Write three true or false statements about your school with question tags, and ask a partner to confirm them.

Our school..., doesn't it?

We..., don't we?

The teachers..., do they?

RULE

A question tag confirms information: a positive statement takes a negative tag, and a negative statement takes a positive tag. The tag repeats the auxiliary or 'be' verb from the main sentence.

TR Question tag, olumlu cümleye olumsuz, olumsuz cümleye olumlu bir 'kısa soru' eklenerek teyit istemek için kullanılır. Yardımcı fiil ya da be fiili ana cümledekiyle aynı olur.

When?

We use question tags to check information or to keep a conversation going.

TR Bir bilgiyi teyit etmek ya da sohbeti sürdürmek istediğimizde question tag kullanırız.

POSITIVE	NEGATIVE	QUESTION	SHORT ANSWERS
Your school starts at nine, doesn't it?	You aren't in the exchange programme, are you?	She teaches Geography, doesn't she?	Yes, it does. / No, it doesn't.

X WRONG	✓ RIGHT	WHY?
She teaches Geography, doesn't teach she?	She teaches Geography, doesn't she?	The tag only repeats the auxiliary + subject, never the main verb again. TR Tag'da sadece yardımcı fiil + özne kullanılır, ana fiil tekrar edilmez.

Our school has a/an...

There are many/few...

We don't have much...

RULE

'A' comes before a consonant sound, 'an' before a vowel sound. 'The' is used for something specific/known. Many/few go with countable nouns, much/little with uncountable nouns; some/a lot of work with both.

TR 'A' sessiz harfle, 'an' ise sesli harf sesiyle başlayan kelimelerden önce kullanılır. 'The' belirli/bilinen bir şey için kullanılır. Sayılabilir isimlerle many/few, sayılamayan isimlerle much/little; her ikisiyle de some/a lot of kullanılabilir.

- 1 In Helsinki, sixteen-year-old Aino's school day starts at 9 a.m. and finishes by 2 p.m. There are shorter lessons, more breaks, and almost no homework — but students are expected to manage their own study time responsibly. Teachers know their students well because class groups often stay together for years, and assessment relies more on projects and discussion than on final exams.
- 2 Halfway around the world, in Singapore, Wei-Lin's school day begins earlier and runs later, often followed by extra classes or club activities until early evening. The curriculum is demanding, and national exams play a major role in deciding which secondary school — and later, which university — a student can attend. Parents and teachers place a strong emphasis on discipline, hard work, and academic results.
- 3 Despite these differences, both systems share a clear goal: helping young people build the knowledge and skills they need for adult life. Finland focuses on independence, well-being, and creativity; Singapore focuses on rigour, structure, and achievement. Educators around the world often study both systems, borrowing ideas from each to design programmes that suit their own students best.

A Guide to Our School Traditions

- 1 Every school develops its own traditions over time, and ours is no different. Each September, new students take part in a Welcome Festival, where older students act as guides for a day, introducing them to the building, the clubs, and a few unwritten rules of school life. It's a simple event, but it helps everyone feel like part of the community from day one.

- 2 In October, the whole school gathers for the Republic Day assembly, where students present short readings, songs, and a display about national history. Preparation begins weeks in advance, with different classes responsible for different parts of the programme — a good chance to practise teamwork as well as public speaking.
- 3 Perhaps the most popular tradition is the end-of-year Talent Show, when students can perform music, dance, comedy, or short plays in front of the whole school. Anyone can take part, and the atmosphere is always supportive rather than competitive. For many students, it's their favourite memory of the whole school year, and a reminder that school is about more than lessons and exams.
