

THEME 6 · B2.1

Life in the World & Culture

Global cuisines, food habits and cultures

Cultural diversity and international sports, films and musical events

Impact of globalisation on everyday life

Warm-up

Look at the title: Life in the World & Culture. What do you think we will talk about in this theme? Tell your partner two ideas.

VOCABULARY

New words

20 target words

cuisine

n.

mutfak (yemek kültürü)

Thai cuisine is famous for balancing sweet, sour and spicy flavours.

staple food

n. phrase

temel besin

Rice is the staple food across much of Southeast Asia.

street food

n. phrase

sokak lezzeti

Tourists queue for hours to try the street food in Istanbul's markets.

culinary heritage

n. phrase

mutfak mirası

Grandparents often teach the family's culinary heritage to younger generations.

fusion cuisine

n. phrase

füzyon mutfak

The new restaurant's fusion cuisine mixes Japanese and Mexican flavours.

delicacy

n.

nadide lezzet

Truffles are considered a delicacy in several European cuisines.

etiquette

n.

görgü kuralları

Table etiquette can be very different from one culture to another.

dietary custom

n. phrase

beslenme geleneği

Avoiding certain meats is an important dietary custom in several religions.

indigenous adj.

yerli, öz

Quinoa is an indigenous crop of the Andes region.

globalisation

n.

küreselleşme

Globalisation means you can taste food from almost any country without travelling.

homogenisation

n.

tekdüzeleşme

Some experts worry that global fast-food chains cause cultural homogenisation.

franchise

n.

bayilik zinciri

The coffee franchise now has branches in more than eighty countries.

box office

n. phrase

gişe hasılatı

The film broke box office records on its opening weekend worldwide.

blockbuster

n.

gişe rekortmeni

The superhero blockbuster was released in over thirty languages.

soundtrack

n.

film müziği

The film's soundtrack became a global streaming hit.

subtitles

n. (plural)

alt yazı

Many viewers now prefer subtitles over dubbing to hear the original voices.

tournament

n.

turnuva

The international football tournament brought together fans from six continents.

fan base

n. phrase

hayran kitlesi

The band built a huge international fan base through social media.

cultural exchange

n. phrase

kültürel değişim

The school's cultural exchange programme sends students abroad every summer.

authenticity

n.

özgünlük

Food critics often debate the authenticity of fusion dishes.

Quick game · What's the word?

“füzyon mutfak”

a fan base

b fusion cuisine

c culinary heritage

Quick game · What's the word?

“gişe hasılatı”

a blockbuster

b box office

c street food

Quick game · What's the word?

“görgü kuralları”

a etiquette

b fan base

c subtitles

Quick game · What's the word?

“turnuva”

a soundtrack

b delicacy

c tournament

Quick game · What's the word?

“hayran kitlesi”

a staple food

b delicacy

c fan base

Quick game · What's the word?

“mutfak mirası”

a culinary heritage

b street food

c cuisine

GRAMMAR

Modals of Probability, Speculation and Deduction

Notice

This dish must be a local speciality — everyone in the market is buying it.

The festival might attract thousands of visitors this year, but nothing is certain yet.

She can't be a professional chef — she just burnt the rice!

The film could become a global hit if it does well at international festivals.

Which modal shows the speaker is almost certain something is true? Which shows the speaker is almost certain something is NOT true? Which two show the speaker is only guessing?

Complete the rule

Complete the rule with the words in the box.

can't

must might / could / may

Complete the rule

For a strong positive conclusion based on evidence, we use _____ + base verb.

✓ must

Complete the rule

For a strong negative conclusion (we are almost sure something is impossible), we use _____ + base verb.

✓ can't

Complete the rule

For a guess when we are not sure, we use _____ + base verb.

✓ might / could / may

The rule

We use 'must' (positive) and 'can't' (negative) for a strong logical conclusion based on evidence. We use 'might', 'may' or 'could' for a guess when we are not sure. These modals are followed by the base form of the verb.

TR Bir kanıta dayanarak güçlü bir sonuca varırken 'must' (olumlu) ve 'can't' (olumsuz) kullanılır. Emin olmadığımız bir tahmin yaparken 'might', 'may' ya da 'could' kullanılır. Bu modallerden sonra fiilin yalın hâli gelir.

When? We use these modals when drawing a conclusion from evidence, or when speculating without being sure — for example, guessing where a dish comes from or why a film became popular.

TR Bir olayla ilgili elimizdeki kanıtlara dayanarak sonuç çıkarırken ya da emin olmadan tahminde bulunurken bu yapıları kullanırız — örneğin bir yemeğin nereden geldiğini ya da bir filmin neden popüler olduğunu tahmin ederken.

Build sentences · Example

the queue is so long

+

must

+

be a popular street food stall

The queue is so long — it must be a popular street food stall.

Build sentences

she + speak + five languages + must

She must speak five languages — she works as an international tour guide.

Build sentences

this actor

+

not / famous

+

can't

This actor can't be famous — nobody in the audience recognised him.

Build sentences

the band

+

might

+

release a new album this year

The band might release a new album this year.

Build sentences

that restaurant + could + be expensive

That restaurant could be expensive — it's in the city centre.

Build sentences

? / the tournament

+

must

+

be difficult to organise

The tournament must be difficult to organise, mustn't it?

Your turn

Write four sentences of your own using must, can't, might/could to make deductions or guesses about a food, film, sport or musical event you know about.

It must...

It can't...

It might...

It could...

Form

POSITIVE

This must be a traditional recipe.
The concert might sell out quickly.

NEGATIVE

That can't be true — the restaurant only opened yesterday.
It might not be ready by the festival.

QUESTION

Could this dish be vegetarian?

SHORT ANSWERS

It must be. / It can't be.
It might. / It might not.

Error detective

She must to be a fan of that band.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ She must be a fan of that band.

Error detective

It mustn't be true.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ It can't be true.

A • Choose the correct option.

Look at the huge queue outside — that food truck _____ be really popular.

a must

b can't

c mightn't

A • Choose the correct option.

She's only twelve — she _____ be the director of the film festival.

a must

b can't

c might

A • Choose the correct option.

The band _____ perform a surprise song tonight — nobody is sure.

a must

b can't

c might

A • Choose the correct option.

This dish is very spicy — it _____ contain chilli.

a must

b mustn't

c might not

B · Complete with must, can't or might.

He speaks perfect Korean, so he _____ have lived in Korea for a while.

✓ must

B · Complete with must, can't or might.

That restaurant only opened last week, so the recipe _____ be a hundred years old.

✓ can't

B · Complete with must, can't or might.

I'm not sure who wrote the soundtrack — it _____ be the same composer as the last film.

✓ might / could

C · Judge the sentence.

She mustn't be the singer — her voice sounds completely different.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ She can't be the singer — her voice sounds completely different.

C · Judge the sentence.

This street food stall must be famous — it's in every travel guide.

a Correct

b Incorrect

Dialogue · Complete with must, can't or might.

A: The tickets sold out in ten minutes — the concert _____ be really popular.

✓ must

Dialogue · Complete with must, can't or might.

B: True, but the reviews are mixed, so it _____ actually be that good live.

✓ might not / may not

Dialogue · Reorder the sentence.

chef / must / that / a / be / professional chef

a be

must professional that

•

✓ That must be a professional chef.

GRAMMAR

Modals of Obligation and Necessity: must, have to, need, had to

Notice

Visitors must remove their shoes before entering the temple.

You have to book a table in advance — the restaurant is always full.

We need to try the local street food while we're here — everyone recommends it.

Last year, festival organisers had to cancel the concert because of bad weather.

Which modal expresses the speaker's own personal rule, and which expresses an outside rule or fact?
What form do we use for a past obligation?

Complete the rule

Complete the rule with the words in the box.

an outside rule

had to

the speaker's own feeling

need to

Complete the rule

'Must' often expresses _____ of obligation (a personal decision).

✓ the speaker's own feeling

Complete the rule

'Have to' usually expresses _____ (a law, rule, or fact outside the speaker).

✓ an outside rule

Complete the rule

' _____ ' is another common way to express necessity, similar to 'have to'.

✓ need to

Complete the rule

For a past obligation, we use ' _____ ' (there is no past form of 'must' for obligation).

✓ had to

The rule

'Must' often expresses the speaker's own feeling of obligation, while 'have to' expresses an obligation from outside (a rule, law or fact). 'Need to' is close in meaning to 'have to'. For the past, we use 'had to' — there is no past form of 'must' for obligation.

TR 'Must', konuşmacının kendi hissettiği bir zorunluluğu; 'have to' ise dışarıdan (kural, kanun, gerçek) gelen bir zorunluluğu anlatır. 'Need to' anlam olarak 'have to'ya yakındır. Geçmiş zamanda hem 'must' hem 'have to' yerine 'had to' kullanılır.

When? We use these modals to talk about rules, requirements and obligations — for example, rules you must follow when visiting a country, or things you need to do to prepare for an event.

TR Bir kurala, gereksinime ya da yükümlülüğe atıfta bulunurken — örneğin bir ülkeyi ziyaret ederken uyulması gereken kurallar ya da bir etkinlik için yapılması gerekenler hakkında konuşurken kullanırız.

Build sentences · Example

visitors

+

must

+

buy a ticket before the tour

Visitors must buy a ticket before the tour.

Build sentences

students

+

have to

+

wear formal clothes for the ceremony (school rule)

Students have to wear formal clothes for the ceremony.

Build sentences

we

+

need to

+

practise our presentation about Mexican cuisine

We need to practise our presentation about Mexican cuisine.

Build sentences

last month / the festival

+

had to

+

move indoors because of the rain

Last month, the festival had to move indoors because of the rain.

Build sentences

I + must + remember to try the local delicacy (personal decision)

I must remember to try the local delicacy.

Build sentences

? / you

+

have to

+

book tickets online for the tournament

Do you have to book tickets online for the tournament?

Your turn

Write three sentences about obligations connected to travelling to a new country: one with must, one with have to, and one about a past obligation with had to.

Before you travel, you must...

In most countries, you have to...

Last time, I had to...

Form

POSITIVE

You must try the local street food.
We have to arrive early for the ceremony.

NEGATIVE

You don't have to bring a gift, but it's polite.
We didn't have to queue for long.

QUESTION

Do we have to wear traditional clothes?
Did you have to get a visa?

SHORT ANSWERS

Yes, you do. / No, you don't.
Yes, I did. / No, I didn't.

Error detective

Yesterday we must book a table.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ Yesterday we had to book a table.

Error detective

She has to to attend the festival.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ She has to attend the festival.

A • Choose the correct option.

In many temples, visitors _____ cover their shoulders — it's a strict rule.

a must

b might

c should

A • Choose the correct option.

Last year, the organisers _____ postpone the tournament because of the storm.

a must

b had to c have to

A • Choose the correct option.

We _____ book seats online — the cinema doesn't sell tickets at the door anymore.

a have to

b must (personal feeling)

c need (without to)

B · Complete with the correct form.

I really _____ (must) remember to send them the recipe before I forget.

✓ must

B · Complete with the correct form.

_____ you _____ (have to) show your passport at the border?

✓ do / have to

B · Complete with the correct form.

Last summer, we _____ (have to) wait three hours for tickets to the film festival.

✓ had to

C · Judge the sentence.

Yesterday, we must arrive early for the ceremony.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ Yesterday, we had to arrive early for the ceremony.

C · Judge the sentence.

We need to practise our presentation about the tournament tonight.

a Correct

b Incorrect

Dialogue · Complete with must, have to or had to.

A: _____ we _____ (have to) bring our own food to the potluck?

✓ do / have to

Dialogue · Complete with must, have to or had to.

B: No, but last time everyone _____ (had to) sign up in advance.

✓ had to

GRAMMAR

Modals of Lack of Obligation, Prohibition and Permission

Notice

You don't have to tip in this country — it isn't expected.

Visitors mustn't touch the artefacts in the museum.

You can't bring outside food into the stadium during the tournament.

Guests are allowed to take photos, but flash photography isn't permitted.

Which phrase means 'it isn't necessary'? Which two mean 'it is forbidden'? Which one means 'it is permitted'?

Complete the rule

Complete the rule with the words in the box.

not necessary

forbidden

permission

Complete the rule

'Don't have to' / 'don't need to' mean something is _____.

✓ not necessary

Complete the rule

'Mustn't' and 'can't' mean something is _____.

✓ forbidden

Complete the rule

'Can' / 'be allowed to' give _____ to do something.

✓ permission

The rule

'Don't have to' / 'don't need to' show that something is NOT necessary (it's optional). 'Mustn't' and 'can't' show that something is forbidden. 'Can' and 'be allowed to' show that something is permitted.

TR 'Don't have to / don't need to' bir şeyin zorunlu OLMADIĞINI belirtir. 'Mustn't' ve 'can't' bir şeyin yasak olduğunu belirtir. 'Can' ve 'be allowed to' ise izin verildiğini anlatır.

When? We use these forms to explain the rules of a place or event — what isn't necessary, what is forbidden, and what is permitted.

TR Bir yerin ya da etkinliğin kurallarını açıklarken — nelerin zorunlu olmadığını, nelerin yasak olduğunu ve nelere izin verildiğini anlatırken bu yapıları kullanırız.

Build sentences · Example

visitors

+

mustn't

+

feed the animals at the sanctuary

Visitors mustn't feed the animals at the sanctuary.

Build sentences

you + don't have to + dress formally for this festival

You don't have to dress formally for this festival.

Build sentences

fans

+

aren't allowed to

+

bring glass bottles into the stadium

Fans aren't allowed to bring glass bottles into the stadium.

Build sentences

students

+

are allowed to

+

choose their own country to research

Students are allowed to choose their own country to research.

Build sentences

you

+

can't

+

take photos backstage without permission

You can't take photos backstage without permission.

Build sentences

? / we

+

have to

+

buy tickets in advance for the film festival

Do we have to buy tickets in advance for the film festival?

Your turn

Write three rules for visitors to an event or place you know well: one with don't have to, one with mustn't, and one with are allowed to.

You don't have to...

You mustn't...

You are allowed to...

Form

POSITIVE

You are allowed to bring your own snacks.
You can take photos here.

NEGATIVE

You don't have to buy a ticket in advance.
You mustn't touch the exhibits.

QUESTION

Are we allowed to film the performance?

SHORT ANSWERS

Yes, you are. / No, you aren't.
Yes, you can. / No, you can't.

Error detective

You mustn't buy a ticket in advance — it's optional.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ You don't have to buy a ticket in advance — it's optional.

Error detective

Visitors don't have to touch the paintings.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ Visitors mustn't touch the paintings.

A · Choose the correct option.

You _____ wear a suit to the beach festival — casual clothes are fine.

a mustn't

b don't have to c can't

A • Choose the correct option.

Fans _____ bring fireworks into the stadium — it's strictly forbidden.

a don't have to

b mustn't

c are allowed to

A · Choose the correct option.

Students _____ choose any country they like for the cultural portfolio project.

a are allowed to

b mustn't

c don't need

B · Complete with don't have to, mustn't or can.

You _____ bring your passport for a local festival, but you do need it for the international one.

✓ don't have to

B · Complete with don't have to, mustn't or can.

Visitors _____ touch the ancient instruments in the museum.

✓ mustn't

B · Complete with don't have to, mustn't or can.

You _____ film the concert on your phone — it's allowed as long as you don't use flash.

✓ can

C · Judge the sentence.

You mustn't bring your own snacks — it's completely optional.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ You don't have to bring your own snacks — it's completely optional.

C · Judge the sentence.

Fans aren't allowed to bring glass bottles into the stadium.

a Correct

b Incorrect

Text · Complete with don't have to, mustn't, can or are allowed to.

At this festival, you _____ buy a ticket weeks in advance, but you _____ bring outside food, and children under six _____ enter free.

✓ don't have to / mustn't / are allowed to

GRAMMAR

Modals of Advice (should, ought to, had better, could) + Be able to

Notice

You should try the local specialities when you travel — they're part of the culture.

We had better book our tournament tickets today, or they'll sell out.

You ought to learn a few phrases of the language before your trip.

After years of practice, she is able to cook dishes from over twenty countries.

Which modals give friendly advice? Which one gives a warning about something urgent? Which structure talks about ability, not advice?

Complete the rule

Complete the rule with the words in the box.

a strong warning

friendly advice

ability, not advice

Complete the rule

'Should' and 'ought to' give _____ or a recommendation.

✓ friendly advice

Complete the rule

'Had better' gives _____ — there could be a bad result if the advice isn't followed.

✓ a strong warning

Complete the rule

'Be able to' expresses _____.

✓ ability, not advice

The rule

'Should' and 'ought to' give friendly advice or a recommendation (they are close in meaning, but 'should' is more common in speech). 'Had better' gives a stronger, more urgent warning, implying a bad result if not followed. 'Be able to' expresses ability (it can be used in the present, future and past), not advice.

TR 'Should' ve 'ought to' nazik tavsiye vermek için kullanılır (anlamları neredeyse aynıdır, ama 'should' konuşma dilinde daha yaygındır). 'Had better' kötü bir sonuç olabileceğini ima eden daha güçlü/acil bir uyarı verir. 'Be able to', yetenek anlatır (present, future ve past zamanlarda çekimlenebilir), tavsiye değildir.

When? We use 'should/ought to' to give advice, 'had better' for an urgent warning, and 'be able to' to describe ability — for example, when recommending something to a visitor, or talking about someone's skills.

TR Birine tavsiye verirken 'should/ought to', acil bir uyarı yaparken 'had better', bir yeteneği anlatırken 'be able to' kullanırız — örneğin bir festivale gidecek birine öneride bulunurken ya da birinin dil/beceri yeteneğinden bahsederken.

Build sentences · Example

you + should + try the street food market on Friday nights

You should try the street food market on Friday nights.

Build sentences

we

+

had better

+

leave now or we'll miss the opening ceremony

We had better leave now, or we'll miss the opening ceremony.

Build sentences

tourists

+

ought to

+

respect local dining customs

Tourists ought to respect local dining customs.

Build sentences

by next year / he

+

be able to

+

speak three languages

By next year, he will be able to speak three languages.

Build sentences

she

+

not / be able to

+

attend the festival last year (illness)

She wasn't able to attend the festival last year.

Build sentences

? / you

+

should

+

book tickets for the film early

Should you book tickets for the film early?

Your turn

Write three pieces of advice for someone visiting a cultural festival for the first time, using should, ought to and had better.

You should...

You ought to...

You'd better...

Form

POSITIVE

You should try the local delicacy.
She is able to cook dishes from many countries.

NEGATIVE

You shouldn't miss the opening ceremony.
He wasn't able to get tickets last year.

QUESTION

Should we book in advance?
Will you be able to join us at the festival?

SHORT ANSWERS

Yes, you should. / No, you shouldn't.
Yes, I will. / No, I won't.

Error detective

You should to try the local food.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ You should try the local food.

Error detective

She can be able to speak four languages.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ She is able to speak four languages. / She can speak four languages.

A · Choose the correct option.

You _____ try the street food here — it's famous all over the country.

a should

b had better not

c wasn't able to

A • Choose the correct option.

We _____ hurry, or we'll miss the beginning of the concert!

a should

b had better

c are able to

A · Choose the correct option.

After moving abroad, she _____ speak three languages fluently.

a should

b had better

c is able to

B · Complete with should, had better or (be) able to.

You really _____ book your tournament tickets today — they usually sell out fast.

✓ had better / should

B · Complete with should, had better or (be) able to.

Last year he wasn't _____ get a visa in time, so he missed the festival.

✓ able to

B · Complete with should, had better or (be) able to.

By the end of the exchange programme, you _____ (will) understand a lot more about the local culture.

✓ will be able to

C · Judge the sentence.

You should to visit the museum before it closes.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ You should visit the museum before it closes.

C · Judge the sentence.

We'd better leave now, or we'll miss the opening ceremony.

a Correct

b Incorrect

Dialogue · Complete with should, had better or be able to.

A: You _____ try to get tickets online — they always sell out at the door.

✓ should / had better

Dialogue · Complete with should, had better or be able to.

B: Good idea. I hope I'll _____ find good seats.

✓ be able to

READING

The World on One Plate

Before you read

1. Look at the title. What do you think the text will compare?
2. Name one dish you have tried that mixes ingredients or styles from two different countries.

THE WORLD ON ONE PLATE · 1 / 4

Walk through a night market in Bangkok, a food hall in Istanbul, or a food truck festival in Los Angeles, and you will notice something similar: dishes from completely different culinary traditions sitting side by side. A steaming bowl of Vietnamese pho might be served next to Mexican tacos, while a stall selling Turkish gözleme stands opposite one offering Korean fried chicken. This mixing of cuisines is not an accident — it is one of the clearest signs of globalisation in everyday life.

THE WORLD ON ONE PLATE · 2 / 4

For centuries, food travelled slowly, carried by traders, sailors and migrants along routes such as the Silk Road. Spices, rice and tea moved from one culture to another over months or years. Today, the same process happens almost instantly. A new fusion restaurant in Seoul can go viral on social media, and within days, food lovers in São Paulo or Cairo are trying to recreate the recipe at home. Globalisation hasn't only sped up the exchange of food; it has completely reshaped what "authentic" cuisine even means.

THE WORLD ON ONE PLATE · 3 / 4

Not everyone welcomes this change. Some chefs and food historians worry that fusion cuisine and global franchises could slowly replace local culinary heritage, especially among younger generations who grow up eating international fast food rather than traditional family recipes. Others argue the opposite: that global attention actually helps preserve dying culinary traditions, because chefs who blend old recipes with new ideas often bring worldwide interest — and funding — back to the original dish.

THE WORLD ON ONE PLATE · 4 / 4

Whatever the outcome, one thing seems certain. As long as people keep travelling, migrating and sharing photos of their meals online, the world's cuisines will keep influencing each other — and our plates will continue to tell the story of a more connected planet.

While you read

What is the main idea of the text?

a Fusion food is always better than traditional food.

b Globalisation is changing how cuisines mix and how we understand "authentic" food.

c Food never changes from one generation to the next.

While you read

In the past, food travelled slowly along routes such as the

_____ •

✓ Silk Road

While you read

According to the text, some chefs and food historians worry that:

a fusion cuisine and global franchises could replace local culinary heritage

b traditional recipes are becoming too expensive

c food no longer travels between countries

While you read

Everyone in the text agrees that globalisation is bad for traditional food.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ The text says opinions are divided — some worry, but others think global attention helps preserve traditions.

While you read

A new fusion restaurant can go viral on social media, and within days, people elsewhere try to _____ the recipe at home.

✓ recreate

After you read

1. Do you think globalisation is generally good or bad for local food traditions? Give a reason.
2. Write one sentence describing a fusion dish you would like to try.

READING

When Screens and Stadiums Cross Borders

Before you read

1. What sport, film or type of music from another country do you enjoy?
2. Do you think it's easier to access international entertainment now than it was for your parents' generation?

WHEN SCREENS AND STADIUMS CROSS BORDERS · 1 / 4

Twenty years ago, a teenager in a small town might have grown up watching only local television and listening to music sung in their own language. Today, that same teenager can stream a Korean drama with subtitles, follow a Spanish football league on their phone, and add a Nigerian afrobeats song to their playlist — all before breakfast. Entertainment, like food, has become genuinely global.

WHEN SCREENS AND STADIUMS CROSS BORDERS · 2 / 4

Sport offers one of the clearest examples. International tournaments such as the World Cup or the Olympics attract fan bases that stretch across every continent, uniting people who may never have met and who support their teams for reasons connected to family, history or simple love of the game. A goal scored in one stadium can be celebrated by millions of people thousands of kilometres away within seconds, thanks to live streaming and social media.

WHEN SCREENS AND STADIUMS CROSS BORDERS · 3 / 4

Film and music tell a similar story. A blockbuster produced in one country can top the box office worldwide, and a song released with no marketing budget can become a global phenomenon purely because listeners share it online.

Streaming platforms now recommend content from dozens of countries, meaning audiences are exposed to storytelling styles, humour and music that would have been almost impossible to access a generation ago.

WHEN SCREENS AND STADIUMS CROSS BORDERS · 4 / 4

Of course, this cultural exchange raises questions too. Does easy access to international blockbusters threaten smaller national film industries? Could the popularity of a handful of global superstars crowd out local musicians? For now, most researchers agree that globalisation in entertainment tends to add variety rather than erase it — but they also agree that supporting local artists remains important if that variety is going to survive.

While you read

What is the writer's main point about entertainment today?

a

Local entertainment no longer exists anywhere.

b

People now have easy access to sport, film and music from all over the world.

c

Streaming platforms only show content from one country.

While you read

International tournaments such as the World Cup attract _____ that stretch across every continent.

✓ fan bases

While you read

According to the text, most researchers think globalisation always destroys local culture.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ Most researchers think globalisation tends to add variety, but supporting local artists is still important.

While you read

What question does the text raise about globalisation in entertainment?

a Whether it could threaten smaller national film industries

b Whether stadiums should be built bigger

c Whether subtitles should be removed from films

While you read

A song released with no marketing budget can become a global _____ purely because listeners share it online.

✓ phenomenon

After you read

1. Do you agree that supporting local artists is important, even when global stars are easy to access? Why or why not?
2. Describe one international film, song or sports event that became popular in Türkiye.

LISTENING

Planning an International Potluck

Before you listen

1. Predict: what kind of rules or problems might come up when organising a food event with students from different countries?

Planning an International Potluck

Ses kaydı yakında — transkripti öğretmen okuyabilir.

While you listen

What must every dish at the potluck have?

a A price tag

b A label with the main ingredients

c A photo of the cook

While you listen

Students are allowed to bring alcoholic drinks to the potluck.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ Students mustn't bring alcoholic drinks — only non-alcoholic ones are allowed.

While you listen

Milo, the exchange student, is bringing a _____ recipe from Finland.

✓ cinnamon bun

While you listen

Why does Deniz say they'd better organise a sign-up sheet today?

a

So the teacher doesn't get angry

b

So they don't end up with ten plates of the same dish

c

Because the school requires it by law

LISTENING

Introducing the Cultural Portfolio Project

Before you listen

1. What country would you choose if you had to build a cultural portfolio about its food, sport, film and music?

Introducing the Cultural Portfolio Project

Ses kaydı yakında — transkripti öğretmen okuyabilir.

While you listen

What is the main task the teacher describes?

a

Write a test about world history

b

Build a cultural portfolio about one country's food, sport, film or music

c

Organise the school's own potluck event

While you listen

Students must use at least _____ reliable sources.

✓ three

While you listen

Students have to present their portfolio as a slideshow — no other format is allowed.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ Students are able to choose a poster, a slideshow or a short video.

SPEAKING

Rules and Recommendations for Visitors

In pairs, imagine you are giving advice to an international visitor coming to your city or region. Talk about food customs, what visitors must/mustn't do, what they don't have to do, and what you'd recommend they try. Use at least three different modals from this theme (must, have to, mustn't, don't have to, should, had better, could, be able to).

SPEAKING

My Cultural Portfolio — A Mini-Presentation

Prepare a two-minute talk introducing one country's food, and its contribution to international sport, film or music. Include at least one deduction/speculation (must be, might be, could be) and one piece of advice for someone visiting that country.

WRITING

A Cultural Portfolio Page

Write a cultural portfolio page (150–180 words) about one country of your choice. Include its food traditions, one cultural event (sport, film or music), and a short reflection on how globalisation has influenced it.

WRITING

Opinion Piece: Has Globalisation Changed Culture for the Better?

Write an opinion essay answering the question: has globalisation changed food, sport, film and music for the better, or has something important been lost? Give at least two reasons and a personal opinion.

REVIEW

Exit ticket

Exit ticket

Look at that queue — the food truck _____ be extremely popular.

a must

b can't

c should

Exit ticket

Visitors _____ remove their shoes before entering — it's a strict rule at the temple.

a might

b must c could

Exit ticket

Last year, the festival _____ (have to) move indoors because of heavy rain.

✓ had to

Exit ticket

You _____ (not / need) to dress formally for the street food festival — it's very casual.

✓ don't need

Exit ticket

Fans _____ bring glass bottles into the stadium — it's forbidden.

a don't have to

b mustn't

c are allowed to

Exit ticket

You should to try the local delicacy while you're here.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ You should try the local delicacy while you're here.

Exit ticket

By next year, she _____ (will / be able to) speak three languages fluently.

✓ will be able to

Exit ticket

Which sentence correctly expresses a strong, urgent warning?

a

We should maybe leave soon.

b

We'd better leave now, or we'll miss the opening ceremony.

c

We are able to leave now.

Exit ticket

Put the words in order.

must

tourists

customs

a visit respect local they new when country

•

✓ Tourists must respect local customs when they visit a new country.

Exit ticket

You don't have to bring your passport to the local market — it's optional there.

a Correct

b Incorrect

Exit ticket

Rewrite the sentence using 'had better'.

(It's a good idea for you to try the traditional dance before the show starts.)

✓ You'd better try the traditional dance before the show starts. / You had better try the traditional dance before the show starts.

Exit ticket

Which word describes a food that is special to a region and considered rare or special?

a staple food

b delicacy

c fusion cuisine

Exit ticket

In some cultures, guests _____ (must / not) point at people — it's considered impolite.

✓ mustn't

Exit ticket

Local shop owners worry that the arrival of big international _____ could threaten small family businesses.

a franchises

b subtitles

c tournaments