Grammar

Will / Going to — Future Classrooms

Use 'will' for predictions and spontaneous decisions, and 'going to' for plans already decided.

Tahminler ve anlık kararlar için 'will', önceden planlanmış şeyler için 'going to' kullanılır.

When? Use will/going to to talk about future classroom technology.

Geleceğin sınıf teknolojisinden bahsederken kullanılır.

Positive

- Classrooms will use more technology.

Negative

- We aren't going to use tablets today.

Question

- Will schools use AI teachers?

Short answers

- Yes, they will. / No, they won't.

Common mistakes

- ~~We going to try VR next week.~~ → We are going to try VR next week.

1. I think classrooms _____ (will) use more robots in ten years. (will)

The Classroom of Tomorrow

Before you read

- What technology would you like to have in your classroom?

Many schools already use interactive whiteboards, tablets, and online platforms to make lessons more engaging. Teachers say these tools give instant feedback and help students access resources at home too.

In the future, classrooms will probably use even more advanced technology. Some experts believe virtual reality will let students visit ancient Rome or explore the human body without leaving the room. Artificial intelligence is going to help teachers by suggesting personalised exercises for each student.

Of course, technology can also be a distraction — students sometimes use their devices for games instead of learning. That's why many schools are going to introduce clearer rules about when devices can be used.

1. What do teachers say online platforms help students do?

- a. Play games
- b. Access resources at home ✓
- c. Avoid homework
- d. Skip lessons

"help students access resources at home too".

2. Artificial intelligence is going to suggest _____ exercises. (personalised)

Directly stated.

3. Technology can never be a distraction, according to the text. — True / False (Incorrect — It can be a distraction.)

The text mentions this directly.

After you read

- Do you think future classrooms will have fewer teachers? Why or why not?

A New Learning App
