Grammar

First Conditional — Environmental Consequences

Use the first conditional (if + present simple, will + base verb) to talk about likely future results of an action.

Bir eylemin olası gelecekteki sonucunu anlatmak için birinci koşul cümlesi (if + geniş zaman, will + fiil) kullanılır.

When? Use the first conditional to talk about environmental cause and effect.

Çevresel neden-sonuç ilişkilerinden bahsederken kullanılır.

Positive

- If we recycle, we will reduce waste.

Negative

- If we don't act, species will disappear.

Question

- What will happen if pollution increases?

Common mistakes

- ~~If we will recycle, we reduce waste.~~ → If we recycle, we will reduce waste.

1. If we don't stop deforestation, animals _____ (lose) their habitats. (will lose)

First conditional result clause.

2. If people _____ (use) renewable energy, pollution will decrease. (use)

Present simple in the if-clause.

3. Choose the correct sentence.

- a. If it rains, we will cancel the trip. ✓
- b. If it will rain, we cancel the trip.
- c. If it rains, we cancelling the trip.
- d. If it will rains, we will cancel.

If + present simple, will + base verb.

4. Rewrite: people don't recycle, so pollution will increase (as a conditional). (Use first conditional) If people don't recycle, pollution will increase.

Protecting Our Planet's Animals

Before you read

- Do you know any endangered animals?

Many animals around the world are now endangered because of deforestation, pollution, and climate change. If we don't protect natural habitats, more species will become extinct in the coming decades.

Conservation organisations are working hard to help. They plant trees to restore forests, clean up polluted rivers, and protect wildlife reserves. If more countries switch to renewable and sustainable energy, scientists believe we will slow down climate change significantly.

Small actions matter too. If every family reduces plastic waste and recycles more, together we will make a real difference for future generations of both people and animals.

1. What three causes of endangerment are mentioned?

- a. War, farming, tourism
- b. Deforestation, pollution, climate change ✓
- c. Hunting, fishing, mining
- d. Noise, traffic, construction

Stated in the first sentence.

2. Conservation organisations plant trees to restore _____. (forests)

Directly stated.

3. The text says small actions don't matter. — True / False (Incorrect — The text says small actions matter too.)

Opposite is stated.

After you read

- What is one action you could take to help protect wildlife?

A School Eco-Club Meeting

Before you listen

- What could a school eco-club do to help the environment?

1. What will the eco-club do this month?

- a. Plant trees ✓
- b. Clean the river
- c. Visit a zoo
- d. Write a report

Stated in the dialogue.

2. If they plant enough trees, the local habitat _____ (improve). (will improve)

First conditional result.

Transcript (teacher use)

Leader This month, our eco-club will plant fifty trees near the river.

Student Will that really help the environment?

Leader Yes! If we plant enough trees, the local habitat will improve for birds and insects.

Student That's great — I'll bring my friends to help too.
