Verbs of liking/disliking (enjoy, love, hate, can't stand) + -ing

After enjoy, love, hate, and can't stand, we use the -ing form of the verb (the gerund), not the infinitive.

Enjoy, love, hate ve can't stand fiillerinden sonra fiilin -ing hâli (gerund) kullanılır, to'lu mastar kullanılmaz.

When? We use these verbs to talk about general feelings and interests, especially when describing hobbies and free-time activities.

Bu fiiller, özellikle hobiler ve boş zaman etkinlikleri anlatılırken genel duygu ve ilgi alanlarını ifade etmek için kullanılır.

Positive

- I enjoy painting.
- She loves collecting stamps.

Negative

- I don't enjoy painting.
- She doesn't love collecting stamps.

Question

- Do you enjoy painting?
- Does she love collecting stamps?

Short answers

- Yes, I do. / No, I don't.
- Yes, she does. / No, she doesn't.

Common mistakes

- ~~I enjoy to paint.~~ → I enjoy painting.
- ~~She hate play chess.~~ → She hates playing chess.

Adjective + preposition (fond of, keen on, interested in, crazy about)

These adjectives are followed by a fixed preposition (of, on, in, about), and the verb after the preposition takes the -ing form.

Bu sıfatlardan sonra sabit bir edat (of, on, in, about) gelir ve edattan sonraki fiil -ing hâlini alır.

When? We use these expressions to talk about our interests and enthusiasms, often more strongly than simple 'like'.

Bu ifadeler, genellikle basit 'like'dan daha güçlü bir şekilde ilgi ve heveslerimizi anlatmak için kullanılır.

Positive

- I'm fond of painting.
- She's keen on cycling.

Negative

- I'm not fond of painting.
- She isn't keen on cycling.

Question

- Are you fond of painting?
- Is she keen on cycling?

Can / could (ability, present and past)

We use can + base verb for present ability and could + base verb for past ability. Both are modal verbs and never take -s or 'to'.

Şimdiki zamandaki yetenek için can + fiilin yalın hâli, geçmişteki yetenek için could + fiilin yalın hâli kullanılır. İkisi de yardımcı fiildir ve -s ya da 'to' almaz.

When? We use can/could to talk about general abilities and skills, not about a single completed action in the past.

Can/could, tek bir tamamlanmış geçmiş eylem için değil, genel yetenek ve becerileri anlatmak için kullanılır.

Positive

- I can swim.
- She could swim when she was six.

The Weekend Woodcarver

Before you read

- Look at the title. What do you think this person does at weekends?
- Do you know anyone who is skilled at a craft hobby?

Ahmet works as an accountant during the week, but every Saturday morning he becomes a completely different person. He puts on an old apron, opens his small garden shed, and picks up a piece of wood and a set of carving tools. Ahmet is passionate about woodcarving, and he has been practising this hobby for almost six years.

It all started when his grandfather gave him a small wooden bird he had carved himself. Ahmet was fascinated and decided he wanted to learn the same skill. At first, he was a complete novice and found the work slow and difficult. He couldn't even carve a simple spoon without cutting his fingers. However, he was fond of the quiet, careful process, and he refused to give up.

Ahmet joined a local craft club, where more experienced members were happy to share tips with beginners. He practised for at least two hours every weekend, and slowly his skills improved. Now he can carve detailed animal figures, small boxes, and even simple furniture. His favourite pieces are wooden birds, just like the one his grandfather gave him.

Ahmet says that woodcarving helps him relax after a stressful week at work. "I enjoy focusing on one small task and seeing something beautiful appear from a plain piece of wood," he explains. He is now keen on entering his work in a regional craft competition next spring, something he could never have imagined doing when he first picked up a carving knife.

1. What is Ahmet's job?
 - a. Woodcarver
 - b. Accountant
 - c. Craft teacher
 - d. Shed builder
2. Ahmet's grandfather gave him a small wooden _____.
3. Ahmet found woodcarving easy from the very beginning. — True / False
4. How does Ahmet feel about woodcarving now?
 - a. Bored by it
 - b. Passionate about it
 - c. Confused by it
 - d. Annoyed by it
5. Ahmet is planning to enter a regional craft _____ next spring.

6. What can we infer about Ahmet's attitude towards learning new skills?

- AbOnlinEnglish Upper Secondary — 11. Sınıf — Complete Theme · Orijinal içerik, TYMM müfredatıyla uyumlu.
- a. He gives up easily.
 - b. He is patient and determined.
 - c. He prefers to learn alone.
 - d. He only likes fast results.

After you read

- Would you like to try woodcarving? Why or why not?
- What hobby have you learned slowly, like Ahmet learned woodcarving?

Twins, Different Talents

Before you read

- Do you know any twins? Do they usually have the same interests?
- Guess: what different hobbies might two twin sisters have?

Elif and Deniz are twin sisters, but their hobbies could hardly be more different. Elif is crazy about rock climbing. Every weekend, she travels to a climbing centre outside the city, where she can now climb walls that would have seemed impossible to her two years ago. As a child, she couldn't even climb the small tree in their garden without help, so her family is amazed at how far she has come.

Deniz, on the other hand, is interested in something much quieter: chess. She loves sitting for hours studying old games and planning her next move. She joined the school chess club in Year 9 and quickly became one of its strongest players. Unlike her sister, Deniz has always preferred activities that let her think carefully rather than move quickly.

Their parents say that the girls have always had opposite personalities, even though they look almost identical. Elif enjoys taking risks and testing her body's limits, while Deniz prefers solving problems calmly in her mind. Interestingly, both girls agree on one thing: they can't stand giving up on a challenge, whether it's a difficult climbing route or a tricky chess puzzle.

Last month, the twins decided to try something new together: a beginner's pottery class. Neither of them had any experience, and at first their bowls looked more like flat plates. However, after a few lessons, both sisters could shape a simple, even bowl, and they agreed it was fun to be complete beginners together for once.

1. What hobby is Elif crazy about?

- a. Chess
- b. Rock climbing
- c. Pottery
- d. Woodcarving

2. Deniz joined the school _____ club in Year 9.

3. As a child, Elif could easily climb trees. — True / False

4. What do the two sisters have in common, according to the text?

- ☐ a. They both prefer quiet activities.
- ☐ b. They both can't stand giving up on a challenge.
- ☐ c. They both dislike trying new things.
- ☐ d. They both started rock climbing together.

5. The twins tried a beginner's _____ class together last month.

6. What can we infer about how the sisters felt during the pottery class?

- ☐ a. Embarrassed and unwilling to continue
- ☐ b. Amused and encouraged by improving together
- ☐ c. Angry that their bowls were not perfect
- ☐ d. Uninterested in the activity

After you read

- Do you think it's more common for siblings to share hobbies or have different ones? Why?
- Which of the two sisters' hobbies would you rather try, and why?

Hobby Interview

Pairs · 8 min

In pairs, interview your partner about their hobbies, likes/dislikes, and preferences, then report one interesting fact to the class.

Useful language: What do you enjoy doing in your free time?, Are you interested in...?, I'm really keen on..., I'd prefer... to..., I can't stand...

1. Prepare 4-5 questions about hobbies, likes, dislikes, and preferences.
2. Take turns interviewing each other and note down the answers.
3. Choose one interesting or surprising answer to share with the class.
4. Report back briefly, using full sentences.

Can You? Could You?

Groups of 3-4 · 10 min

In small groups, students find out what abilities each group member has now and had as a child, then present the most surprising ability to the class.

Useful language: Can you...?, Could you... when you were younger?, I can... but I couldn't... when I was little., That's amazing!

1. In groups, ask each other about three present abilities and three past abilities.
2. Note down each person's most impressive or surprising answer.
3. Agree on the one ability from the group that surprised everyone most.
4. Present that ability to the class in a short sentence, e.g. 'Ayşe could ride a horse when she was five.'
