S1 Describe Your Dream House

Pairs · 10–15 dk

Imagine your dream house (real or invented, for creative-writing purposes). Describe its rooms and furniture to your partner using vocabulary and 'there is/there are', while your partner draws a simple sketch based on your description.

There is a... / There are...

It's a villa/cottage/apartment with...

The... is next to/between/behind the...

In the living room, there is...

1. Think of your dream house: type of house, number of rooms, key furniture.
2. Describe it to your partner, room by room, while they sketch it.
3. Your partner asks 2–3 follow-up questions with 'Is there...?' or 'Are there...?'
4. Swap roles and repeat with your partner's dream house.
5. Compare your sketches and share one interesting detail with the class.

S2 What's Happening at Home? — Phone Roleplay

Pairs · 12–15 dk

Roleplay a phone call between two friends. One friend asks what the other is doing right now at home, and what they usually do at the weekend, using the Simple Present and the Present Progressive.

What are you doing right now?

I'm ...-ing at the moment.

What do you usually do at the weekend?

I usually... but today I'm...

1. In pairs, decide who calls first.
2. Caller asks what their partner is doing right now.
3. Partner answers with the Present Progressive, then adds what they usually do (Simple Present).
4. Swap roles and repeat with a new situation.
5. Perform your best phone call for another pair.

My House

W1

60-80 words

Write a short description of your own house or flat (or an invented one, for creative-writing purposes) for a new pen pal. Include the type of house, its rooms, at least three pieces of furniture, and one sentence about what your family usually does there.

PLAN

1. Choose a title for your description, e.g. 'My Apartment' or 'My Family's Cottage'.
2. Note the type of house and the number of rooms.
3. List three or four pieces of furniture using 'there is/there are'.
4. Add one sentence with the Simple Present about a family routine at home.
5. Check your grammar and punctuation.
