Date

Aim Discover the grammar from examples, explain the rule in your own words and use it correctly in context.

Past Simple: was/were &amp; there was/there were

1 · NOTICE

- Fifty years ago, there were thousands of tigers in this forest.
- Ten years ago, this area was a safe habitat for cheetahs.
- There wasn't a nature reserve here in 1990.
- Was there a shelter for injured animals last year? — Yes, there was.

Which form goes with singular nouns and which with plural nouns? How do we talk about something existing (or not existing) in the past?

2 · DISCOVER — A · COMPLETE THE RULE

Look at the Notice sentences again. Complete the rule with the words in the box.

was   were   there was   there were

1. With I, he, she or it, we use _____.
2. With you, we or they, we use _____.
3. For one thing or animal that existed in the past, we say _____.
4. For more than one thing or animal that existed in the past, we say _____.

B Build sentences

Use the cues to write true or logical sentences about habitats in the past. Look at the example first.

e.g. Fifty years ago   thousands of tigers   in this forest

Fifty years ago, there were thousands of tigers in this forest.

1. this area   a safe habitat   for cheetahs

2. there   not / a nature reserve here   in 1990

3. ? / there a shelter for injured animals last year
4. the ocean not / polluted fifty years ago
5. ? / there many whales in this ocean last century

C Your turn

Write three sentences about an animal's habitat in the past, using was/were and there was/there were.

In the past, there was/were...

This habitat was...

There wasn't...

RULE

'Was/were' is the past form of 'to be': use 'was' with I/he/she/it and 'were' with you/we/they. 'There was/there were' says that something (or an animal) existed in the past: 'there was' for one, 'there were' for more than one.

TR 'Was/were' geçmiş zamanda 'to be' fiilinin hâlidir; I/he/she/it ile 'was', you/we/they ile 'were' kullanılır. 'There was/there were' bir şeyin ya da hayvanın geçmişte var olup olmadığını anlatır: tekil için 'there was', çoğul için 'there were'.

When?

We use this to describe what an animal or a natural place was like in the past, and to say whether something existed in the past — for example, describing how a habitat used to be.

TR Bir hayvanın veya doğal alanın geçmişte nasıl olduğunu ve geçmişte var olup olmadığını anlatırken kullanırız; örneğin bir habitatın eskiden nasıl olduğunu tarif ederken.

| POSITIVE                              | NEGATIVE                                    | QUESTION                                 | SHORT ANSWERS                         |

Should: advice, recommendation and obligation

1 · NOTICE

- We should protect endangered animals like tigers and whales.
- Poachers shouldn't hunt endangered species illegally.
- You should report illegal hunting to the local authorities.
- Should we build more nature reserves? — Yes, we should.

Which sentences give advice or a recommendation? Which show that something is (or isn't) the right thing to do? How do we make 'should' negative and a question?

2 · DISCOVER — A · COMPLETE THE RULE

Look at the Notice sentences again. Complete the rule with the words in the box.

should   shouldn't   Should   base verb

1. ' _____ ' gives advice, a recommendation or shows an obligation.
2. The negative is ' _____ ', for things that are not a good idea or not allowed.
3. In a question, ' _____ ' comes before the subject.
4. After should/shouldn't, we always use the _____ (no -s, no 'to').

B Build sentences

Use the cues to write sentences with should/shouldn't about protecting wildlife. Look at the example first.

e.g. we   protect   endangered animals like tigers and whales

We should protect endangered animals like tigers and whales.

1. poachers   not / hunt   endangered species illegally
2. you   report   illegal hunting to the local authorities
3. ? / we   build   more nature reserves
4. people   not / buy   products made from endangered animals
5. ? / governments   spend   more money on conservation

C Your turn

Write three sentences with should/shouldn't giving advice about protecting an endangered animal or its habitat.

We should...

People shouldn't...

Governments should...

RULE

We use 'should' to give advice, make a recommendation or talk about an obligation — 'ought to'.

Negative: shouldn't. Question: Should + subject + base verb? Always use the base verb after should/shouldn't.

TR 'Should' tavsiye, öneri veya bir yükümlülük belirtmek için kullanılır; 'gerekir/-meli/-malı' anlamı taşır. Olumsuzda 'shouldn't', soruda 'should' öznenen önce gelir. Should'dan sonra fiilin yalın hâli kullanılır.

When?

We use this to give people or governments advice about protecting wildlife and habitats, and to say what is or isn't the right thing to do.

TR İnsanlara veya hükümetlere yaban hayatını ve habitatları korumaları için tavsiye verirken, doğru ya da yanlış davranışları belirtirken kullanırız.

1 Before you read

Make predictions before you read.

1. Look at the title. What do you already know about tigers and why they are endangered?

2. Guess: what two or three threats do you think tigers face today?

Saving the Bengal Tiger

- 1 A hundred years ago, there were more than 100,000 tigers living in the wild across Asia. Today, there are only a few thousand left, and the Bengal tiger is one of the most endangered big cats in the world.
- 2 Bengal tigers live in grasslands and forests, mostly in India, Bangladesh and Nepal. Fifty years ago, their habitat was much bigger, and there were plenty of grasslands and forests for them to hunt in. Today, much of that habitat has disappeared because of farming and new towns.
- 3 Illegal hunting is another serious threat. Poachers sometimes kill tigers illegally and sell their skin and bones, even though this is against the law almost everywhere. Climate change is also a growing threat, because it changes the grasslands and forests where tigers live.
- 4 Conservation groups are working hard to help. They protect large areas of grassland as nature reserves, where tigers can live safely. In some reserves, there weren't many tigers ten years ago, but numbers are slowly growing again thanks to this protection.
- 5 Experts say that everyone should help protect the Bengal tiger. Governments should create more nature reserves, and people shouldn't buy products made from endangered animals. If we protect their habitat now, future generations should still be able to see wild tigers.

A Diary from Green Valley Nature Reserve

- 1 Monday, 14 September — Today our class visited Green Valley Nature Reserve, and it was an unforgettable day! Our guide, Ms Aylin, told us that fifty years ago, this whole area was open grassland, and there were cheetahs and other wild animals living here freely.
- 2 We started with a short talk about the reserve's history. Ms Aylin explained that there wasn't a proper shelter for injured animals here until 2015, when the reserve built a new animal hospital. Now the shelter helps hundreds of animals every year.
- 3 Next, we walked along a nature trail and saw the reserve's small lake, where migrating birds stop to rest. Ms Aylin said that this species of bird was almost extinct thirty years ago, but thanks to conservation work, there are now hundreds of them again.
- 4 In the afternoon, a ranger explained why illegal hunting is such a big problem for wildlife, and why poachers are a serious threat to endangered species. She said that visitors should always stay on the paths and shouldn't feed the wild animals, because it can be dangerous for both people and animals.
- 5 By the end of the day, I understood something important: we should all do our part to protect wildlife, whether that means supporting a nature reserve, reporting illegal hunting, or simply learning more about the animals that share our planet.

Aim Use the words and structures of the theme in real communication tasks.

S1 Then and Now: Describing a Habitat

Pairs · 10–15 dk

Choose a habitat (real or invented, for creative-speaking purposes) and describe how it was in the past and what it is like now, using was/were and there was/there were.

Fifty years ago, there was/were...

This area was/wasn't...

Today, there is/isn't...

Was there...? — Yes, there was. / No, there wasn't.

1. In pairs, choose a habitat: a forest, a grassland, an ocean or a desert.
2. Think of three things that were true about it in the past.
3. Think of how it has changed today.
4. Take turns describing your habitat's past and present to your partner.
5. Share one interesting fact with the whole class.

S2 What Should We Do? — A Wildlife Roundtable

Groups of 4 · 15–20 dk

In small groups, discuss what should and shouldn't be done to protect an endangered animal of your choice, then agree on three pieces of advice to share with the class.

I think we should...

People shouldn't...

Governments should...

Should we...? — Yes, I think so. / No, I don't think so.

1. In groups, choose one endangered animal to discuss.
2. Each student suggests one piece of advice using 'should' or 'shouldn't'.
3. Discuss and agree on the group's three best pieces of advice.
4. Prepare a short spokesperson summary for the class.
5. Present your group's advice to the class.

W1 An Endangered Animal Fact File

60-80 words

Write a short fact file about an endangered animal (real or invented, for creative-writing purposes). Include its habitat, what it was like in the past, and at least two things people should do to protect it.

PLAN

1. Choose a title for your fact file, e.g. 'All About the Snow Leopard'.
2. Note the animal's habitat and one fact about it in the past.
3. List two or three threats it faces.
4. Add two sentences of advice using 'should'.
5. Check your grammar and punctuation.

USEFUL WORDS & STRUCTURES

endangered   habitat   species   threat conservation   protect   There was/were...

Its habitat is...      We should...

People shouldn't...

CHECKLIST

- ☐ I used at least two sentences with 'should' or 'shouldn't'.
- ☐ I used at least three target words from Vocabulary.
- ☐ I checked my spelling and capital letters.

W2 A Letter to a Local Newspaper about Protecting Wildlife

50-70 words

Imagine you are writing a short letter to a local newspaper about protecting wildlife near your town (real or invented, for creative-writing purposes). Explain what the habitat used to be like and what people should do now.

PLAN

1. Choose a habitat or animal near your town to write about.
2. Say what it was like in the past using 'was/were'.
3. Explain the main threat it faces now.
4. Give two pieces of advice using 'should'.
5. End with a polite closing sentence.

USEFUL WORDS & STRUCTURES

wildlife   nature reserve   illegal   protect
