GRAMMAR

Simple Future (will) vs 'be going to'

Notice

By 2035, most cities will use renewable energy for public transport, experts predict.

Look at these plans — the council is going to build a new pedestrian zone in the old town.

I think traffic congestion will get worse before it gets better.

We are going to move to a quieter neighbourhood next month — we've already signed the contract.

Which sentences are predictions based on opinion or general belief, and which describe a plan or intention that has already been decided? Which sentence is based on present evidence (a plan we can see)?

Complete the rule

Look at the Notice sentences again. Complete the rule with the words in the box.

will + base verb

am/is/are + going to + base verb

a decided plan or intention

a prediction based on opinion

Complete the rule

For a spontaneous decision or a general prediction/opinion about the future, we use _____ : _____ .

✓ a prediction based on opinion / will + base verb

Complete the rule

For _____, or a prediction based on present evidence, we use 'be going to': _____.

✓ a decided plan or intention / am/is/are + going to + base verb

The rule

'Will' + base verb is used for general predictions, opinions about the future, and decisions made at the moment of speaking. 'Be going to' + base verb is used for a plan or intention decided before now, or a prediction based on present evidence.

TR 'Will' + yalın fiil, genel tahminler, görüşler ve o an verilen kararlar için kullanılır. 'Be going to' + yalın fiil ise önceden planlanmış bir niyet veya elimizdeki kanıtlara (örn. gördüğümüz bir şey) dayanan bir tahmin için kullanılır.

When? We use these forms when talking about city plans, infrastructure projects and predictions about the future: 'be going to' for a firm plan, 'will' for an opinion or prediction.

TR Şehir planları, altyapı projeleri ve gelecekle ilgili tahminlerden bahsederken; kesin bir plandan bahsediyorsak 'be going to', bir görüş/tahminden bahsediyorsak 'will' kullanırız.

Build sentences · Example

GRAMMAR

Connecting Words: Cause and Effect

Notice

Traffic congestion increased sharply, so the council introduced a new bus lane.

The city built more cycle paths so that fewer people would need to drive to work.

House prices rose quickly because of the new metro line nearby.

As a result of the housing shortage, many young families have moved to the suburbs.

Which connectors are followed directly by a clause (subject + verb), and which are followed by a noun phrase? What is the difference in meaning between 'so' and 'so that'?

Complete the rule

Complete the rule with the words in the box.

so + clause (result)

so that + clause (purpose)

because of / due to + noun

as a result (of) + noun / , as a result + clause

Complete the rule

To show a simple result of something, we use _____.

✓ so + clause (result)

Complete the rule

To show the purpose or reason behind an action, we use

_____ •

✓ so that + clause (purpose)

Complete the rule

To connect a cause directly to a noun phrase, we use _____.

✓ because of / due to + noun

Complete the rule

To introduce a formal consequence, often at the start of a new sentence, we use _____.

✓ as a result (of) + noun / , as a result + clause

The rule

'So' links a clause showing a result, after a comma. 'So that' shows purpose/intention and is often followed by would/could/can. 'Because of' and 'due to' are followed by a noun phrase, not a clause. 'As a result (of)' can start a formal result sentence or be used with a noun.

TR 'So' bir sonucu bağlamak için virgülden sonra bir cümlecik alır. 'So that' bir amaç/niyet bildirir ve genellikle 'would/could/can' ile kullanılır. 'Because of' ve 'due to' bir isim tamlaması alır (cümlecik değil). 'As a result (of)' hem resmi bir sonuç cümlesi başlatabilir hem de isimle kullanılabilir.

When? We use these connectors when explaining why a city planning decision was made, or what its results were.

TR Bir şehir planlama kararının nedenini veya sonucunu açıklarken, ya da bir olayın neden gerçekleştiğini anlatırken bu bağlaçları kullanınız.

Build sentences · Example

The bridge was closed for repairs. / Traffic got worse. (so)

The bridge was closed for repairs, so traffic got worse.

Build sentences

The city planted more trees. / to make the air cleaner. (so that)

The city planted more trees so that the air would be cleaner.

Because of the heavy rain last week, the road flooded.

Build sentences

the new factory / hundreds of new jobs appeared in the area. (as a result of)

As a result of the new factory, hundreds of new jobs appeared in the area.

Build sentences

rents rose fast / many students had to share flats. (so)

Rents rose fast, so many students had to share flats.

Build sentences

? / the council widened the road / (why — so that)

Why did the council widen the road? So that traffic would flow more smoothly.

Your turn

Write three sentences about causes and effects in your own city or neighbourhood, using 'so', 'so that' and 'because of'/'as a result of'.

..., so...

...so that...

Because of.../As a result of...

Form

Congestion got worse, so the city built a new ring road.
They widened the pavement so that pedestrians would feel safer.

NEGATIVE

The project didn't continue, so the area stayed undeveloped.

QUESTION

Why did rents rise?
Because of the new shopping centre nearby.

SHORT ANSWERS

Text · Complete with so / so that / because of / as a result of.

The old factory closed, _____ hundreds of people lost their jobs. _____ this, the council built a new business park _____ new companies would move to the area.

✓ so / As a result of / so that

GRAMMAR

Connecting Words: Contrast, Time and Condition

Notice

While the city centre is noisy and crowded, the suburbs stay quiet even at rush hour.

Rural areas offer more space, whereas cities offer more job opportunities.

Even though the flat was small, they loved living close to everything.

Despite the traffic, most residents say they wouldn't move to the countryside.

The old bridge will stay closed until the repairs are finished.

You can park here for free as long as you don't stay longer than two hours.

By the time the new metro opens, the population will have grown even more.

Which words introduce a contrast between two ideas? Which are followed directly by a noun/-ing form instead of a clause? Which two connectors are about time or condition rather than contrast?

Complete the rule

Complete the rule with the words in the box.

while / whereas + clause

even though + clause

despite / in spite of + noun/-ing

until / as long as / by the time + clause (time or condition)

Complete the rule

To show a direct contrast between two clauses (often facts),
we use _____ .

✓ while / whereas + clause

Complete the rule

To show a surprising contrast (something unexpected happened anyway), we use _____.

✓ even though + clause

Complete the rule

To show a surprising contrast followed by a noun or -ing form,
we use _____ .

✓ despite / in spite of + noun/-ing

Complete the rule

_____ introduce a point in time or a condition, not a contrast.

✓ until / as long as / by the time + clause (time or condition)

The rule

'While' and 'whereas' compare two facts and are followed by a clause. 'Even though' introduces an unexpected contrast and is followed by a clause; 'despite'/'in spite of' are followed by a noun or -ing form. 'Until' marks a point in time, 'as long as' a condition, and 'by the time' the point by which something will have happened.

TR 'While' ve 'whereas' iki farklı gerçeği karşılaştırır, ikisi de cümlecik alır. 'Even though' beklenmedik bir karşıtlık bildirir ve cümlecik alır; 'despite'/'in spite of' ise isim ya da -ing yapısı alır. 'Until' bir zaman noktasını, 'as long as' bir koşulu, 'by the time' ise bir olayın gerçekleşeceği ana kadar geçen süreci belirtir.

When? We use these connectors when comparing urban and rural life, or when stating when or under what condition a plan will happen.

TR Kırsal ve kentsel yaşamı karşılaştırırken, ya da bir planın ne zaman/hangi koşulla gerçekleşeceğini belirtirken bu bağlaçları kullanırız.

Build sentences · Example

The city is expensive. / Many people still want to live there. (despite)

Despite the high cost of living, many people still want to live in the city.

Build sentences

Village life is quiet. / City life is fast and busy. (whereas)

Village life is quiet, whereas city life is fast and busy.

Build sentences

The flat has no balcony. / They love the location. (even though)

Even though the flat has no balcony, they love the location.

Build sentences

Rural areas have fewer amenities. / They offer cleaner air and more space.
(while)

While rural areas have fewer amenities, they offer cleaner air and more space.

Build sentences

Residents can't park here / they show a resident permit. (unless → rewrite with 'as long as')

Residents can park here as long as they show a resident permit.

Build sentences

The road stays closed. / the repairs finish. (until)

The road stays closed until the repairs finish.

Your turn

Write four sentences comparing city and countryside life: two with contrast connectors (while/whereas/even though/despite) and two with time/condition connectors (until/as long as/by the time).

While the city...

..., whereas...

Despite...

By the time...

Form

While cities offer more jobs, villages offer more space.

Despite the noise, I love living downtown.

NEGATIVE

The park won't open until the work is finished.

QUESTION

Would you move to the countryside, even though it's far from your job?

SHORT ANSWERS

Yes, despite the distance. /
No, not until things change.

Error detective

Despite the city is crowded, I enjoy living there.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ Despite the city being crowded, I enjoy living there. / Even though the city is crowded, I enjoy living there.

Error detective

By the time the new road opens, traffic is getting worse.

C · Judge the sentence.

Even though the high cost of living, many people still move to the city.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ Despite the high cost of living, many people still move to the city.

Text · Complete with while/whereas/even though/despite/until/as long as/by the time.

_____ the city centre is expensive, more people move there every year. _____ the heavy investment, traffic problems continue, and they probably won't disappear _____ the new metro line opens.

✓ Even though / Despite / until

READING

Building the City of Tomorrow

Before you read

1. Look at the title. What do you think this text is going to describe?
2. What infrastructure do you think a new neighbourhood needs before people can live there comfortably?

BUILDING THE CITY OF TOMORROW · 1 / 3

Twenty years ago, the Riverside district of our city was a collection of empty warehouses and cracked pavements. Today, it is one of the most talked-about neighbourhoods in the country, and its transformation says a lot about how modern cities develop. Planners began by improving the basic infrastructure: they repaired the roads, buried the power lines underground, and built a light-rail line connecting Riverside directly to the city centre. Without reliable transport and utilities, they argued, no other improvement would matter.

BUILDING THE CITY OF TOMORROW · 2 / 3

Once the infrastructure was ready, new housing developments followed quickly, along with amenities that made the area genuinely liveable rather than just convenient: parks, a community centre, cycle paths, and a pedestrian-only high street lined with cafés and small shops. Local officials insist that the goal was never simply to attract wealthy new residents. "We wanted a mixed neighbourhood," explains city planner Deniz Aksoy, "so that teachers, nurses, and young families could still afford to live here, not only people working in the new tech offices nearby."

BUILDING THE CITY OF TOMORROW · 3 / 3

Not everyone is convinced the plan has fully worked. Rents have risen sharply since the light-rail line opened, and some long-term residents say they no longer recognise their own street. This pattern, sometimes called gentrification, has appeared in cities around the world whenever an area develops quickly. As a result, the council is now going to introduce rules requiring a percentage of affordable housing in every new development — a decision many hope will keep Riverside open to people from every background, not just those who can pay the highest rent.

While you read

What was the first step planners took in developing Riverside?

a

Building parks and a community centre

b

Improving basic infrastructure such as roads and power lines

c

Opening cafés and small shops

While you read

Deniz Aksoy says the goal was to create a _____ neighbourhood where different kinds of workers could afford to live.

✓ mixed

While you read

What problem has appeared in Riverside since the light-rail line opened?

a Too much green space

b Sharply rising rents / gentrification

c A shortage of tech

While you read

The council plans to require a percentage of affordable housing in future developments.

a Correct

b Incorrect

While you read

Riverside is now considered one of the most talked-about _____ in the country.

✓ neighbourhoods

After you read

1. Do you think gentrification is always a bad thing? Why or why not?
2. Write one sentence describing an infrastructure change you would like to see in your own neighbourhood.

READING

City Mouse, Country Mouse: Two Lives Compared

Before you read

1. Would you rather live in a city or a village? Why?
2. What do you think are the biggest advantages of rural life compared to city life?

CITY MOUSE, COUNTRY MOUSE: TWO LIVES COMPARED · 1 / 3

Emre grew up in a small village of about six hundred people and moved to the capital for university five years ago. "The first thing that struck me was the noise," he says. "In my village, you could hear birds and almost nothing else. Here, there's always traffic, always people." Despite the constant noise and the long daily commute, Emre says he wouldn't go back permanently. "There are simply more opportunities here — more jobs, more courses, more things happening every single evening."

CITY MOUSE, COUNTRY MOUSE: TWO LIVES COMPARED · 2 / 3

His sister Aylin made the opposite choice. After finishing her degree in the city, she returned to their home village to open a small café, even though most of her university friends thought she was making a mistake. "People assume rural life is boring," she says, "but I know almost everyone who walks through that door. My cost of living is much lower, and I'm not stuck in traffic for two hours a day." She admits, however, that some things are harder: the nearest hospital is forty minutes away, and there is only one bus a day to the nearest large town.

CITY MOUSE, COUNTRY MOUSE: TWO LIVES COMPARED · 3 / 3

Researchers who study urban and rural lifestyles say that stories like Emre and Aylin's are becoming more common as remote work grows. While cities will probably remain centres of innovation and opportunity, rural areas are attracting a new kind of resident: people who want more space and a stronger sense of community, as long as they can still stay connected to city jobs through the internet. Whether this trend continues will depend partly on whether rural infrastructure — from broadband to healthcare — keeps improving fast enough to support it.

While you read

Why does Emre say he prefers living in the city, despite the noise?

a

Because his village has no internet

b

Because the city offers more opportunities

c

Because public transport is free

While you read

Aylin opened a small _____ in her home village after finishing her degree.

✓ café

While you read

Aylin regrets moving back to the village and wants to return to the city.

a Correct

b Incorrect

✓ Aylin is happy with her choice, even though some things are harder in the village.

While you read

According to researchers, what is helping some people choose rural life?

a The growth of remote work

b A shortage of city housing

c A new law about village life

While you read

Aylin says the nearest hospital is about _____ minutes away from her village.

✓ forty

After you read

1. Whose choice do you find more convincing, Emre's or Aylin's? Why?
2. Write one sentence comparing your own ideal lifestyle to Emre's or Aylin's.
