#	WORD / CHUNK	TÜRKÇE AÇIKLAMA
1	Have you ever been to...?	Hiç ...'e gittin mi? — Hayat deneyimi sorusu
2	I've visited 14 countries.	Ben 14 ülke gezdim. — Kaç tane (deneyim)
3	I went there last summer.	Geçen yaz oraya gittim. — Belirli zaman (PS)
4	She's just arrived.	Az önce vardı. — 'just' = PP sinyali
5	I've already booked the hotel.	Oteli çoktan ayarladım. — 'already' = PP
6	Have you packed yet?	Bavulunu yaptın mı henüz? — 'yet' soru/olumsuz
7	It's the first time I've...	İlk kez ...yapıyorum. — PP ile 'first time'
8	a once-in-a-lifetime experience	Ömürde bir kez yaşanan deneyim
9	aurora borealis / northern lights	Kuzey ışıkları — atmosfer fenomeni
10	It was the best trip I've ever taken.	Şimdiye kadar yaptığım en iyi gezi. — superlative + PP

Present Perfect — have / has + V3

Present Perfect geçmiş bir eylemi şimdiki zamanla ilişkilendirir. "Ne zaman?" sorusunun cevabı belirsizdir ya da önemsizdir — önemli olan deneyim, sonuç veya yeni bilgidir. Türkçede tam karşılığı yoktur — hem "-dı" hem "-mış" anlamı verir.

Yapı: have / has + Past Participle (V3)

Özne	Yardımcı	Kısaltma	Olumsuz	Örnek
I / You / We / They	have	've	haven't	I have visited London.

Özne	Yardımcı	Kısaltma	Olumsuz	Örnek
He / She / It	has	's	hasn't	She has never seen snow.

🔑 Anahtar Kelimeler — ne zaman kullanılır?

Kelime	Anlam	Pozisyon	Örnek
ever	hiç (soru)	have + ever + V3	Have you ever been to Japan?
never	hiç (olumsuz)	have + never + V3	I've never tried bungee jumping.
already	zaten, çoktan	have + already + V3	I've already done it.
yet	henüz (-/?)	cümle sonu	I haven't finished yet . / Have you eaten yet ?
just	az önce	have + just + V3	She's just arrived.
since	-den beri (başlangıç)	since + time point	I've lived here since 2018.
for	-dır/-dir (süre)	for + duration	He's studied English for 5 years.

DON'T CONFUSE — Present Perfect vs Simple Past

Present Perfect → zaman belirsiz / deneyim / sonuç:

✓ I have visited Paris. (hayatımda gitmiştim — ne zaman belirsiz)

Simple Past → zaman belirli:

✓ I visited Paris in 2019. (ne zaman belli → Simple Past!)

Kural: yesterday / last week / in 2020 / ago → HEP Simple Past

IMPORTANT — been vs gone

have been to = oraya gitmiş ve dönmüş:

"I have been to Istanbul." → İstanbul'a gittim ve döndüm.

have gone to = hâlâ orada:

"She has gone to Istanbul." → İstanbul'a gitti, henüz dönmedi.

Bu fark Türkçe'de yoktur — İngilizce'de çok kritiktir!

🔍 Gerçek bağlamda örnekler

Deneyim (ever/never)

Have you ever tried surfing? → Hiç sörf denedin mi?

I've never eaten raw fish. → Hiç çiğ balık yemedim.

She has visited 15 countries. → 15 ülke gezmiş.

Yakın geçmiş (just/already/yet)

I've just got home. → Az önce eve geldim.

She's already eaten. → O zaten yedi.

Have you packed yet? → Bavulunu hazırladın mı?

Süre (for/since)

I've lived here for 10 years. → 10 yıldır burada yaşıyorum.

She's worked here since 2020. → 2020'den beri çalışıyor.

How long have you known her? → Onu ne zamandır tanıyorsun?

TIP — for vs since for → süreyi söyler: for two years, for a long time, for six months since → başlangıç noktasını söyler: since 2019, since Monday, since I was a child

Test: "İki yıl" → for / "2022'den beri" → since

3 Reading · OkumaChasing the Northern Lights

Travel blogger Ece Yıldız has visited 24 countries in her career. But until last February, she had never seen the aurora borealis — the famous northern lights.

"I have always dreamed of seeing them," she wrote on her blog. "Last winter, I finally went to Tromsø, Norway. It was one of the most extraordinary experiences of my life."

The aurora is caused by charged particles from the sun colliding with gases in Earth's atmosphere. Scientists have studied this phenomenon for centuries, but its beauty still astonishes even the most seasoned travellers.

Not everyone who travels to Norway has been lucky. Some visitors have waited for ten days without seeing anything. Ece, however, saw the lights on her very first night. "I have never felt so small and so connected to the universe at the same time," she told us.

Since that trip, she has written about it in three different magazines. The experience changed her perspective on travel completely.

İ Kurgusal metin — kişiler ve olaylar dil öğretimi amacıyla yazılmıştır.

5 Writing · Yazma

1. Deneyim yazısı

Write 4–5 sentences about your travel experiences using Present Perfect (for experience) and Past Simple (for specific events).

Example start: I've been to ___ twice. The first time I went was in ___. I've never been to ___ but I'd love to...

2. Rüya seyahati

Describe your dream destination. Have you been there? When did you first hear about it? What do you hope to see there? Use both tenses correctly.

✓ Answer Key · Cevap Anahtarı

Exercises

1. b) has visited — Hayat deneyimi + career hâlâ devam ediyor → Present Perfect: has + V3

2. a) went — 'Last summer' = geçmişte belirli zaman → Past Simple: went

3. a) ever — 'Have you ever...?' = hayat deneyimi sorusu → ever

4. a) have — 'already' = beklentiden önce tamamlandı → have already + V3

5. a) has — 'just' = az önce biten → has just + V3

6. a) ago — '2 hours ago' = geçmişte nokta → Past Simple + ago

7. a) yet — Soru + olumsuz = 'yet' → Have you...yet?

8. b) Have — Hayat deneyimi sorusu → Have + subject + ever + V3

9. a) have — Superlative + PP → the most/best...I have ever + V3

10. a) have — 'Never' ile hayat deneyimi → have never + V3

11. a) has been — 'since 2019' = PP başlangıç sinyali → has + V3

12. a) had — 'last month' = geçmiş belirli zaman → Past Simple: had

13. a) has been — 'this week' = hâlâ devam eden hafta → PP: has been

14. a) have — Şu ana kadar hiç gitmemiş → have never been

15. a) have — 'How long...?' + devam eden durum → Have you been + V-ing

Comprehension

- 24 countries.
- She went to see the aurora borealis / northern lights.
- No — some have waited ten days without seeing anything.
- PP: has visited, have studied, has written / PS: went, saw, changed

Writing — örnek cevaplar

Görev 1 — Deneyim yazısı

I've been to Cappadocia twice. The first time I went was in 2021 with my family. I've never been to Europe, but I'd love to visit Italy one day. I've always wanted to see the Colosseum in Rome.

Görev 2 — Rüya seyahati

My dream destination is Japan. I have never been there, but I've read a lot about it and watched many documentaries. I first heard about Japan when I was ten years old. I hope to see Mount Fuji and walk through ancient temples one day.

2 Grammar · Gramer

Passive Voice — Edilgen Çatı

Pasif yapıda özne eylemi yapan değil, eylemin yapıldığı kişi/nesnedir. Türkçe'deki "-ılır/-ilir/-ulur/-ülür" ve "-ıldı/-ildi" eklerine karşılık gelir. "Bu köprü 1900'de inşa edildi."

Yapı: am/is/are/was/were + Past Participle (V3)

Zaman	Aktif (Active)	Pasif (Passive)
Present Simple	People speak English here.	English is spoken here.

Zaman	Aktif (Active)	Pasif (Passive)
Past Simple	They built this bridge in 1900.	This bridge was built in 1900.
Present Continuous	Workers are fixing the road.	The road is being fixed .
Present Perfect	Someone has stolen my bike.	My bike has been stolen .
Future (will)	They will announce the results.	The results will be announced .
Modal	You must return the books.	The books must be returned .

📌 Ne zaman edilgen kullanılır?

Yapan önemsiz/bilinmiyor

My car was stolen last night.
 English is spoken worldwide.
 The results will be published tomorrow.

Yapanı belirtmek → by

The Mona Lisa was painted by Leonardo.
 This book was written by Orhan Pamuk.
 "by" sadece önemli olunca eklenir!

COMMON MISTAKE

- ✗ English ~~is speak~~ here. → ✓ English is spoken here. (V3 gerekli!)
- ✗ The house ~~was build~~ in 1990. → ✓ was built
- ✗ It ~~is being constructed by workers~~ right now. → OK ama gereksiz "by workers" — yapan belliyse kaldır.

TIP — Aktiften Pasifte Dönüştür

- 1-) Aktifin nesnesini → pasifin öznesi yap
 - 2-) am/is/are/was/were + V3 ekle
 - 3-) Aktifin öznesi önemliyse "by ..." ile ekle
- Örnek: "They built the Eiffel Tower in 1889."
 → "The Eiffel Tower was built in 1889."

The Plastic Problem

Every year, it is estimated that about 8 million tonnes of plastic are dumped into the world's oceans (a 2015 study gave a range of 4.8 to 12.7 million tonnes). Coral reefs — which have been called "the rainforests of the sea" — are being bleached by rising water temperatures caused by climate change. Fish and seabirds are being killed by plastic pollution daily.

Plastic in the open ocean was first reported by scientists in the early 1970s. Yet significant global action has not been taken until very recently.

In 2012, an 18-year-old Dutch student named Boyan Slat proposed a radical solution in a TEDx talk: using ocean currents to collect plastic. His idea was doubted by many experts at first. Some said it couldn't work; others argued it might be technically interesting but far too expensive.

His organisation, The Ocean Cleanup, has now been running operations for several years, and hundreds of tonnes of plastic have been removed from the Great Pacific Garbage Patch. Whether this approach can solve the problem on a global scale is still being debated.

Experts agree: more renewable energy must be developed, deforestation must be stopped, and plastic must be replaced by sustainable alternatives. The planet cannot be saved by one person — it requires collective action.

Comprehension

- About 8 million tonnes (a 2015 study estimated 4.8–12.7 million tonnes).
- A Dutch student who, at 18, proposed using ocean currents to collect plastic (TEDx talk, 2012).
- Many doubted it — some said it couldn't work, others said it would be far too expensive.
- e.g. is estimated (present passive) / have been called (present perfect passive) / was doubted (past passive) / must be developed (modal passive)

Writing — örnek cevaplar

Görev 1 — Çevre sorunu (pasif kullan)

Millions of tonnes of plastic are produced every year around the world. In Turkey, many beaches have been polluted by single-use plastic waste. New recycling centres are currently being built in major cities. The oceans must be protected from further damage before it is too late.

Görev 2 — Serbest yazı

I believe both individuals and governments are responsible for the environment. Stricter laws must be introduced by governments. However, plastic must also be used less by every individual. The problem might be solved if we all make consistent small changes in our daily lives.

Conditionals — If Cümleleri (1. ve 2. Tip)

"Eğer ... olursa, ... olur" yapısı. İngilizce'de iki temel tip vardır: First Conditional (gerçek olabilecek durumlar) ve Second Conditional (hayali/olası olmayan durumlar).

📌 First Conditional — Gerçek durumlar

If clause	Main clause	Örnek
If + Present Simple	will + V1	If it rains, we will stay at home.

If clause	Main clause	Örnek
If + Present Simple	can/may/might + V1	If you study , you can pass the exam.

1st Conditional örnekler

If you heat water, it will boil. (doğa kanunu)

If she calls, I will tell her the news.

Unless you hurry, we will miss the bus.

If I have time, I will help you.

Second Conditional — Hayali/olası olmayan

If clause	Main clause	Örnek
If + Past Simple	would + V1	If I had wings, I would fly to Paris.
If + were (to be)	would + V1	If I were you, I wouldn't do that.

DON'T CONFUSE — 1st vs 2nd Conditional

1st Conditional → olabilir, mümkün:

"If it rains tomorrow, I will take an umbrella." (gerçekçi ihtimal)

2nd Conditional → hayal, şu an gerçek değil:

"If I were a bird, I would fly to Africa." (imkânsız/hayal)

"If I had a million dollars, I would travel the world." (şu an yok)

IMPORTANT — "If I were" (were, was değil!)

2nd Conditional'da "to be" için resmi/yazılı dilde were kullanılır:

✓ If I were you, I would apologise.

✓ If she were here, she would know what to do.

Konuşmada "was" da duyulur ama sınavlarda ve yazılı dilde were tercih edilir.

TIP — Unless = If ... not

Unless = eğer ... olmazsa:

"Unless you study, you won't pass." = "If you don't study, you won't pass."

Unless'ten sonra daima olumlu fiil gelir!

The Algorithm and Your Brain

Social media platforms use powerful algorithms to keep you on their apps for as long as possible. If you click on a video about cats, the algorithm will immediately show you more. If you watch content that makes you angry, you will stay online longer — and that is exactly what these companies want.

The problem is becoming serious. A 2019 study of more than 6,500 American teenagers found a clear pattern: if teenagers spend more than three hours a day on social media, they are more likely to report problems such as anxiety and depression. If this pattern continues, many experts warn, young people's mental health will continue to suffer.

Unless we become conscious users of technology, it will control us — not the other way around.

The good news: many young people are fighting back. Some say that when they delete certain apps, they feel calmer and sleep better.

Experts recommend simple rules: before you go to bed, switch off your phone. After you wake up, wait at least 30 minutes before checking social media. If you follow these guidelines, you will probably feel the difference.

- They show you more of what you click on, keeping you online longer.
- They are more likely to report mental health problems such as anxiety and depression.
- Zero: 'when they delete certain apps, they feel calmer' (general experience) / First: 'If you follow these guidelines, you will probably feel the difference' (possible future result).
- Switch off phone before bed / Wait 30+ minutes before checking social media after waking up.

Writing — örnek cevaplar

Görev 1 — Conditional cümleler

If you spend too much time on social media, your sleep gets worse — this is a scientific fact. If I study at night, I will be tired the next morning. I will definitely take more screen breaks when I feel my concentration dropping. As soon as I finish my exams, I will do a digital detox.

Görev 2 — Teknoloji görüşü

In my opinion, social media has more negative effects than positive ones for students my age. If students use their phones less, they will focus much better in class. Unless we set clear time limits, technology will control our lives. I plan to use the app blocker as soon as school starts.

2 Grammar · Gramer

Past Continuous & used to

İki yapı da geçmişle ilgilidir ama farklı amaçlarla kullanılır. Past Continuous geçmişte devam eden bir eylemi, used to ise artık olmayan geçmiş alışkanlıkları anlatır.

Past Continuous — was/were + V-ing

Yapı	Ne zaman?	Örnek
was/were + V-ing	Geçmişte süren eylem	She was studying when I called.

Yapı	Ne zaman?	Örnek
while + was/were + V-ing	İki eş zamanlı eylem	While I was cooking , he was reading.
when + Simple Past	Devam ederken başka şey oldu	I was walking when it started to rain.

📌 used to — Geçmiş alışkanlıklar

Yapı	Anlam	Örnek
used to + V1	Artık olmayan alışkanlık	I used to walk to school. (artık etmiyorum)
didn't use to + V1	Eskiden yapmıyordum	She didn't use to like coffee.
Did ... use to + V1?	Soru	Did you use to play football?

✖ DON'T CONFUSE — used to vs would used to → hem alışkanlık hem durum:

"I used to live in Izmir." (durum — artık orada değilim)

"I used to play tennis." (alışkanlık) would → sadece geçmiş alışkanlıklar (durum için kullanılmaz!):

✓ "When I was young, I would play football every day."

✗ "I would live in Izmir." → would durum için kullanılmaz!

Past Continuous — hikaye anlatımı

It was raining when she left.

While he was sleeping, the phone rang.

I was making tea when the lights went out.

used to — geçmiş vs şimdi

I used to hate vegetables. (şimdi seviyorum)

She didn't use to wear glasses.

People used to travel by horse. (artık değil)

The Forgetting Curve

In 1885, German psychologist Hermann Ebbinghaus made a disturbing discovery. He was studying his own memory — testing himself with lists of nonsense syllables — when he noticed a worrying pattern.

Without review, he was forgetting more than half of new material within one hour. Within 24 hours, about two-thirds was gone. He called this the "forgetting curve."

Many students today still make the same mistakes Ebbinghaus documented. They used to believe — and many still do — that rereading notes is effective. Research suggests this is not very effective. When students were rereading their notes in studies, they were creating an illusion of knowledge, not genuine learning.

The most effective technique is active recall: closing your book and testing yourself. When psychologists Henry Roediger and Jeffrey Karpicke were studying this technique in 2006, they found that students who tested themselves remembered about 56% of a text one week later — compared with 42% for students who simply reread it.

Students used to spend hours highlighting and rereading. Now, the evidence is clear: spaced repetition and retrieval practice — not cramming — are the foundations of lasting memory.

4. Closing your book and testing yourself — after one week, students who tested themselves remembered about 56% of a text, compared with 42% for rereading.

Writing — örnek cevaplar

Görev 1 — Geçmiş alışkanlıklar

I used to study alone, but now I much prefer studying in groups. When I was younger, I was always forgetting my homework at home. I didn't use to enjoy reading novels, but now I read every night before bed. I was studying late one evening when I discovered the Pomodoro technique — it changed everything.

Görev 2 — Öğrenme yöntemi

My most effective study technique is the Pomodoro method: 25 minutes of focused work, then a 5-minute break. I discovered it last year when I was struggling with my exams. Before that, I was studying for hours without breaks — it used to be absolutely exhausting. Now I feel much more productive.

8	How long have you been waiting?	Ne zamandır bekliyorsunuz? (PPC soru)
9	loneliness epidemic	Yalnızlık salgını — modern toplumun sorunu
10	social capital	Sosyal sermaye — bağlantı ve güven ağı

2 Grammar · Gramer

Present Perfect Continuous

have/has been + V-ing — Geçmişte başlayan ve hâlâ devam eden eylemleri anlatır. Genellikle "ne kadar zamandır?" sorusunu yanıtlar. Türkçedeki "-ıyor" ile "-dır" eklerinin birleşimine benzer: "Üç saattir çalışıyorum."

Yapı: have/has been + V-ing

Özne	Yapı	Örnek	Türkçesi
I/You/We/They	have been + V-ing	I have been studying for 3 hours.	3 saattir çalışıyorum.
He/She/It	has been + V-ing	She has been working since morning.	Sabahtan beri çalışıyor.
Olumsuz	haven't/hasn't been + V-ing	I haven't been sleeping well.	İyi uyuyamıyorum.
Soru	How long have/has + V-ing?	How long have you been waiting?	Ne zamandır bekliyorsun?

DON'T CONFUSE — Present Perfect vs Present Perfect Continuous

Present Perfect → tamamlanan eylem, sonuç önemli:

"I have written three emails." (3 e-posta yazdım — tamamlandı, sayı önemli)

Present Perfect Continuous → devam eden süreç:

"I have been writing emails all morning." (sabahtan beri yazıyorum — süreç önemli)

Kural: sonuç mu? → Perfect. Süreç/devamlılık mı? → Continuous.

IMPORTANT — Stative verbs continuous almaz!

know, believe, love, hate, want, understand gibi "durum bildiren" fiiller continuous formda kullanılmaz:

~~✗ I have been knowing her for years.~~

✓ I have known her for years.

~~✗ She has been wanting to leave.~~

✓ She has wanted to leave.

The Loneliness Epidemic

In 2023, the United States Surgeon General issued an extraordinary warning: loneliness has become a public health crisis. The data has been building for years: according to the report, about half of American adults experience measurable levels of loneliness.

Researchers have been studying a paradox: how can a generation that has been communicating with hundreds of "friends" online feel so lonely?

The answer appears to lie in the difference between connection and communication. Social media enables communication — I've been posting, you have been liking, we have been scrolling — but genuine connection requires vulnerability, shared experience, and time. These are things screens cannot provide.

Young people have been spending much less time with friends: the report says that people aged 15–24 had 70% less social interaction with their friends than two decades earlier. Some writers have been calling this "the friendship recession."

Some communities have been developing creative solutions: phone-free cafés, community gardens, walking clubs and volunteer groups.

The evidence is clear: humans need face-to-face connection. How long have we been ignoring this?

Miktar belirteçleri (quantifiers)

Miktar belirteçleri bir ismin ne kadar / kaç tane olduğunu anlatır. Doğru olanı seçmek için iki soru sor: 1) İsim sayılabilir mi, sayılamaz mı? 2) Anlam olumlu mu (yeterli var) yoksa olumsuz mu (neredeyse yok)? Özellikle few / a few ve little / a little arasındaki fark anlamı tamamen değişir.

Özet tablo

Yapı / Kural	Form	Anlam	Örnek
COUNTABLE	many / a large number of / a few / few / several	Sayılabılır çoğul isimlerle	Many countries / a few restaurants / several ingredients
UNCOUNTABLE	much / a great deal of / a little / little	Sayılamaz isimlerle	Much time / a great deal of effort / a little salt / little water
BOTH	a lot of / lots of / plenty of / hardly any / no / some / any	Her ikisiyle de	plenty of food / plenty of ideas / hardly any sugar / no time
few vs a few	few = neredeyse yok (olumsuz anlam) / a few = birkaç tane var (olumlu)	Few people came. (az geldi — kötü) / A few people came. (birkaç kişi — tamam)	little = neredeyse yok / a little = biraz var

⚠️ ⚠️ 'few' (olumsuz — neredeyse yok) vs 'a few' (olumlu — birkaç var) | 'little' (olumsuz) vs 'a little' (olumlu) | 'a large number of' sadece countable plural! ❌ a large number of money ✅ a large amount of money

🔍 Örneklerle

✅ Olumlu anlam

I have a few friends here, so I'm not lonely. → Burada birkaç arkadaşım var, yalnız değilim.

There's a little time before the bus. → Otobüse biraz zaman var.

Don't worry, we've got plenty of food. → Merak etme, bol yiyeceğimiz var.

❌ Olumsuz anlam

Few tourists visit the village in winter. → Kışın köyü çok az turist ziyaret eder.

There's little hope of finding it now. → Onu şimdi bulma ihtimali çok az.

We have hardly any milk left. → Neredeyse hiç sütümüz kalmadı.

We have _____ of time — the film starts at nine. (bol)

3 Reading · OkumaWhy We Eat What We Eat

Food is never just fuel. It is culture, history, identity, and memory. Every country has a great deal of history hidden in its dishes.

Turkish cuisine, for example, has absorbed a large number of influences — from Central Asia, the Middle East, the Balkans, and the Mediterranean — across centuries of empire and migration. Take bread: there are plenty of varieties in Turkey alone — pide, simit, lavaş, bazlama, mısır ekmeği. Hardly any Turkish meal is served without it.

Korean kimchi — fermented vegetables with a variety of spices — has been made for many centuries. A large number of recent studies suggest it may have significant probiotic benefits. However, little definitive scientific consensus exists yet, and more research is needed.

The Japanese consume very little red meat compared to most Western nations — much less saturated fat overall. A few researchers have attributed Japan's exceptional life expectancy partly to diet, though genetics and healthcare also play roles.

Plenty of global food trends are emerging. A few years ago, dishes like kimchi tacos, matcha lattes, and Turkish-inspired fusion were unknown outside their home countries. Now they are everywhere.

Writing — örnek cevaplar

Görev 1 — Yemek kültürü

In Turkey, there is a great deal of variety in the food culture from region to region. People eat plenty of vegetables, legumes, and grains. There are a large number of distinctive regional dishes that reflect local history. However, there is hardly any fast food culture in rural Anatolia compared to the big cities.

Görev 2 — Favori yemek

My favourite traditional meal is mantı — tiny Turkish dumplings filled with spiced minced meat. A small amount of yoghurt is served on top, along with a little hot butter sauce with red pepper. It originally comes from Central Asian nomadic cuisine and was brought to Anatolia centuries ago.

1 Vocabulary · Kelimeler

#	WORD / CHUNK	TÜRKÇE AÇIKLAMA
1	all of a sudden / suddenly	Birden bire, aniden — ani olaylar için
2	it turned out (that)	Meğer..., ortaya çıktı ki...
3	to make matters worse	Bir de üstüne / işi daha da kötüleştirmek için
4	eventually / finally	Sonunda, nihayetinde
5	by the time + PP	...a kadar (o anda geçmişşi ifade eder)
6	had + V3 (Past Perfect)	Daha önce yapmıştı — ana olaydan önce
7	While/As + Past Continuous	...rken (arka plan eylem)
8	cliffhanger	Gerilimli bırakış — okuyucuyu merakta bırakan son
9	reliable narrator	Güvenilir anlatıcı — doğru söylüyorsa
10	plot twist	Beklenmedik olay — hikayede dönüm noktası

2 Grammar · Gramer

Past Perfect — had + V3

Past Perfect, geçmişte olan iki olaydan önce olanı anlatır. "Ben geldiğimde, o çoktan gitmişti." — "çoktan gitmişti" → Past Perfect. Türkçe'deki "-mıştı/-mişti" ekine karşılık gelir.

Yapı: had + Past Participle (V3)

Yapı	Örnek	Türkçesi
had + V3 (olumlu)	When I arrived, she had already left .	Ben geldiğimde o çoktan gitmişti.

Yapı	Örnek	Türkçesi
hadn't + V3 (olumsuz)	He hadn't eaten before the meeting.	Toplantıdan önce yemek yememişti.
Had + özne + V3 (soru)	Had you met her before?	Onu daha önce tanımış mıydın?

📌 Zaman çizelgesi — Hangi eylem önce oldu?

Past Perfect vs Simple Past — sıra önemli!

When I arrived [Simple Past] at the station, the train had already left [Past Perfect].

Önce: tren gitti ✈️ → Sonra: ben geldim 🚶

She had studied French for years before she moved to Paris.

Önce: yıllarca Fransızca çalıştı → Sonra: Paris'e taşındı

📌 Sık kullanılan bağlaçlar

Bağlaç	Anlam	Örnek
when	-diğinde	When she arrived, he had left.
before	-den önce	I had finished before midnight.
after	-den sonra	After they had eaten, they watched TV.
by the time	-e kadar	By the time I arrived, everyone had gone.
already	zaten	She had already seen the film.

TIP — Past Perfect her zaman zorunlu değil!

"before" veya "after" kullandığında sıra zaten belli — Past Perfect opsiyoneldir:

✓ "She left before he arrived." (sade Past Simple, sıra belli)

✓ "She had left before he arrived." (Past Perfect — daha vurgulu)

Ama "when" kullandığında dikkat! — "when" olmadan Past Perfect önemli.

The Midnight Train

It was the last night of our three-week trip to Lisbon. We had been walking all day and were exhausted. Our train was leaving at midnight — only two hours away.

At 11:30, we were sitting in a small café near the station when my friend's face suddenly went pale. "My bag," he whispered. It had disappeared. Our tickets, our passports, our money — everything had been in that bag.

To make matters worse, it was raining heavily. We ran back to the restaurant where we had had dinner two hours earlier. Nothing. We checked the taxi we had taken from the museum. The driver hadn't seen anything.

By the time we returned to the station, our train had already departed. We stood there in the rain, completely speechless.

Then, all of a sudden, a station guard approached us. "Are you looking for a blue backpack?" he asked. Somebody had found it on a bench and handed it in thirty minutes earlier. Everything was still inside.

We laughed until we cried. We had missed our train. But it didn't matter. We had the best story we would ever bring home from a trip.

2 Grammar · Gramer

Second Conditional & Wish

Second Conditional şu an gerçek olmayan ya da gerçekleşmesi zor olan durumları anlatır. Wish ise şu an olmayan bir şeyi dilemek için kullanılır. İkisi de geçmiş zaman kipi kullanır ama geçmiş anlamı taşımaz!

Second Conditional

If clause	Main clause	Örnek
If + Past Simple	would/could + V1	If I had more time, I would travel more.

If clause	Main clause	Örnek
If + were	would + V1	If I were you, I wouldn't accept that offer.

📌 Wish — Şu anki dilekler

Yapı	Anlam	Örnek
I wish + Past Simple	Şu an olmayan şey	I wish I knew the answer. (bilmiyorum)
I wish + were	Şu anki durum	I wish I were taller. (değilim)
I wish + would	Davranış değişikliği isteği	I wish he would stop smoking. (sinirlisin)

IMPORTANT — Wish ile geçmiş zaman = şimdiki anlam!

"I wish I had more money." → Şu an param yok, keşke olsaydı.

"had" geçmiş zamandır ama anlam şu andır!

❌ I wish I have more money. (Present tense — yanlış)

✅ I wish I had more money.

REAL ENGLISH — Günlük kullanım

"If only I were taller!" → Keşke daha uzun olsaydım!

"I wish the weather would change." → Hava değişse keşke.

"If I were you, I'd talk to him." → Senin yerinde olsam, onunla konuşurdum.

"I wish I could help you." → Keşke yardım edebilseydim. (edemiyorum)

Istanbul: The City That Never Sleeps

Istanbul is extraordinary — a city where two continents meet, where 8,000 years of history breathe in every stone. But it is also a city under enormous pressure. Traffic, overcrowding, and soaring costs are testing its residents every single day.

"If the metro system were expanded to every district, I wouldn't spend three hours in traffic every day," says Mehmet, a teacher who commutes from the Asian side. "If I could afford to live in the city centre, I absolutely would — but rents have risen enormously in recent years."

Urban planner Defne has ambitious ideas. "If we converted even 20% of our roads to pedestrian zones and cycling paths, air quality would improve dramatically. If we invested properly in public transport, thousands of people would leave their cars at home. Pollution would drop overnight."

But change is slow. "If politicians listened to urban planners more seriously, our cities would be profoundly different," she says. "If I were the mayor, I would start with the most basic things: cleaner air, safer streets, affordable housing for working families."

What would your city look like if you could design it from scratch?

i Kurgusal metin — kişiler ve olaylar dil öğretimi amacıyla yazılmıştır.

Comprehension Questions

1. What is Mehmet's main daily problem?

2. What two changes would Defne make to improve air quality?

3. According to Defne, what would happen if politicians listened to urban planners more?

The Art of Disagreeing Well

Many young people say they find it difficult to disagree with teachers, parents or managers. Some admit they often stay silent, even when they know the other person is wrong.

Psychologist Dr Ayla Demir argued that this was deeply damaging — both to individuals and to society. She claimed that a culture of silent agreement prevented genuine problem-solving. "I would argue that respectful disagreement is not rude — it is essential," she told students at a recent conference. "It can be learned and practised."

She suggested using phrases like "I see what you mean, but..." or "That's an interesting perspective — have you considered...?" She warned that aggressive language almost always escalated rather than resolved conflict.

A student asked whether there was ever a situation where disagreeing simply was not worth it. Dr Demir replied that there was almost always a way to express a different view with dignity — if you chose your words carefully.

"The problem," she said, "is that people confuse disagreement with attack. They are completely different things."

She admitted that even she had been guilty of this in her younger years. "I denied being wrong for years," she laughed. "Learning to say 'I was mistaken' was one of the hardest and most important lessons of my life."

Another student asked what single piece of advice she would give. "Listen first," she replied. "Always, always listen first."

İ Kurgusal metin — kişiler ve olaylar dil öğretimi amacıyla yazılmıştır.

Writing — örnek cevaplar

Görev 1 — Dolaylı anlatım

My teacher told me that I needed to practise my speaking more consistently. My friend said that she was going to study abroad in Ireland next year. She admitted that she had been feeling very nervous about the university interview. He claimed that the final test had been completely unfair.

Görev 2 — Tartışma sahne

Dialogue:

Ali: I think we should cancel the camping trip — the weather forecast looks terrible.

Selin: I disagree. I think we can make it work if we bring proper equipment.

Ali: Are you sure? It might be dangerous.

Selin: I believe we'll be fine.

Reported speech:

Ali suggested that they should cancel the trip because the forecast looked terrible. Selin disagreed, saying she thought they could make it work. Ali asked if she was sure and warned that it might be dangerous. Selin replied that she believed they would be fine.

Third Conditional & Geçmiş Dilekler

Third Conditional geçmişte gerçekleşmemiş durumları ve onların sonuçlarını anlatır. "Eğer onu görseydin ne olurdu?" — artık geriye dönüş yok. I wish + Past Perfect ise geçmişte duyulan pişmanlığı anlatır.

Third Conditional: If + Past Perfect → would have + V3

If clause	Main clause	Örnek
If + had + V3	would have + V3	If I had studied, I would have passed.

If clause	Main clause	Örnek
If + had + V3	could/might have + V3	If you had called , I could have helped .

📌 Geçmiş dilekler: I wish + had + V3

Yapı	Anlam	Örnek
I wish + had + V3	Geçmişteki pişmanlık	I wish I had studied harder. (ama çalışmadım)
I wish + hadn't + V3	Yaptığına pişmanlık	I wish I hadn't said that. (söyledim, üzgünüm)
If only + had + V3	Güçlü pişmanlık	If only I had listened!

DON'T CONFUSE — 3 tip wish

Şimdiki pişmanlık → wish + Past Simple:

"I wish I knew the answer." (şu an bilmiyorum)

Geçmişteki pişmanlık → wish + Past Perfect:

"I wish I had known the answer." (o zaman bilmiyordum)

Davranış değişikliği isteği → wish + would:

"I wish he would stop talking." (şu an sinirleniyorum)

Too Little, Too Late?

In 2015, world leaders gathered in Paris and signed what they called a historic agreement: to keep global warming well below 2 degrees Celsius above pre-industrial levels, and to try to limit it to 1.5 degrees. They pledged action. They made commitments. They gave speeches.

Climate scientists had been warning about global warming for decades. Many of them argue that if governments had listened thirty years ago, we would have avoided much of the damage we are seeing today. If only the political will had existed in 1990, this would have been a very different story.

Researchers who have studied company documents have shown that parts of the fossil fuel industry spent decades sowing doubt about climate science. If that disinformation campaign had not been so effective, public pressure for change would have mounted far earlier.

But there is cause for cautious hope. Grassroots movements — led largely by young people — have changed the political landscape. Many young activists believe that if they hadn't started marching in 2018, governments would never have taken this seriously.

Many now ask: if we had known fifty years ago what we know today, would we have done anything differently? Perhaps. But the more important question is: knowing what we know now — what will we do next?

I wish we had started earlier. I wish governments had listened. If only the world had acted as urgently as the science demanded. But we are here now. And the choices we make today will become tomorrow's "if only."

1. To keep global warming well below 2 °C above pre-industrial levels and to try to limit it to 1.5 °C.
2. That if governments had listened thirty years ago, much of today's damage would have been avoided.
3. Knowing what we know now — what will we do next?
4. 3rd conditional: 'if governments had listened..., we would have avoided...' (imaginary past) / 'I wish we had started earlier.' (regret about the past)

Writing — örnek cevaplar

Görev 1 — Pişmanlık ve dilek

I wish I had studied harder during my first year at secondary school. If only I had spent less time on social media and more time reading. If governments around the world had invested more in renewable energy twenty years ago, we would not be facing such a catastrophic climate crisis today.

Görev 2 — Küresel sorun

If the world had acted seriously on climate warnings in the 1990s, we would not be facing this emergency now. Many species would not have become extinct if we had protected their habitats in time. If only world leaders had listened to climate scientists earlier — the situation today would look very different.
