Possessive 's, possessive pronouns and Whose...?

We add 's to a singular noun to show possession, and just ' to a plural noun ending in -s (the boys').

Possessive pronouns (mine, yours, his, hers, ours, theirs) replace a noun so we don't repeat it. We use Whose...? to ask who something belongs to.

Bir şeyin kime ait olduğunu göstermek için tekil isimlere 's, çoğul -s ile biten isimlere ise sadece ' eklenir (the boys'). Possessive pronouns (mine, yours, his, hers, ours, theirs) isim tekrarını önler. Whose...? sorusu 'kimin' anlamına gelir ve sahiplik sorar.

When? We use this to say or ask who an item of clothing or a belonging belongs to.

Bir eşyanın (kıyafet, çanta vb.) kime ait olduğunu söylerken ya da sorarken kullanılır.

Question tags (Simple Present, Present Progressive)

A question tag is a short question added to the end of a sentence, usually to check information. A positive sentence takes a negative tag, and a negative sentence takes a positive tag. The tag matches the auxiliary verb (do/does, am/is/are) and the subject.

Question tag, cümlelerin sonuna eklenen ve genellikle bir şeyi doğrulamak için sorulan kısa bir sorudur. Olumlu cümleden sonra olumsuz tag, olumsuz cümleden sonra olumlu tag gelir. Tag, cümledeki yardımcı fiile (do/does, am/is/are) ve özneye göre değişir.

When? We use question tags to check information or keep a conversation going, especially when talking about appearance, clothes and personality.

Bir bilgiyi doğrulamak ya da sohbeti sürdürmek için, özellikle görünüş, kıyafet ve kişilik hakkında konuşurken kullanılır.

Positive

- You like this outfit, don't you? (positive statement + negative tag)

My name is Aslı and I want to tell you about my best friend, Zeynep. We are in the same class, and we get on well with each other. Zeynep is fourteen years old, and she has long curly brown hair and big brown eyes.

Zeynep isn't very tall, but she is quite slim and always looks stylish. She usually wears comfortable clothes, like jeans and a stripy jumper, but today she is wearing a spotted dress for a school photo.

As for her personality, Zeynep is very cheerful and generous. She always shares her lunch with me, and she never gets angry, even when things go wrong. She's also hard-working — she studies every evening after school.

Zeynep isn't shy at all. She loves talking to new people, and she gets on well with everyone in our class. The only thing is, she can be a little stubborn — when she decides something, she doesn't change her mind easily!

How to Write a Great Fact File

Before you read

- What do you think a 'fact file' about a person includes? Guess two things.
- Have you ever interviewed someone? What questions did you ask?

A fact file is a short text that gives information about a person. At the end of Theme 3, you are going to interview a classmate and write a fact file about them, so let's look at a good example first.

This is Deniz's fact file, written by his classmate Mert: 'Deniz is fifteen years old. He is tall and has short straight hair and dark brown eyes. He usually wears casual clothes, like a hoodie and trainers, because he thinks they are comfortable.'

Mert continues: 'Deniz's personality is easy to describe — he is friendly, cheerful and very generous. He always helps his classmates with their homework, and he gets on well with everyone in our year. He isn't shy at all!'

Notice how Mert uses the Simple Present for facts (he is, he wears) and clear vocabulary for appearance and personality. He also organises the fact file into two parts: appearance first, then personality.

When you write your own fact file, remember to interview your classmate carefully, take notes, and use a mix of appearance and personality words. Don't forget to check your grammar before you present it to the class!

5. The fact file only describes Deniz's appearance, not his personality. — True / False

6. According to the text, what should you do before presenting your fact file?

- ☐ a. Translate it into Turkish
- ☐ b. Check your grammar
- ☐ c. Make it as long as possible
