Simple Past: talking about places you visited

We use the Simple Past for completed actions and states in the past. Regular verbs add -ed (visited, walked); irregular verbs have their own past form (go → went, have → had). The past of 'be' is was/were.

Simple Past; geçmişte tamamlanmış olayları ve durumları anlatmak için kullanılır. Düzenli fiillere -ed eklenir (visited, walked); düzensiz fiillerin ise kendine özgü bir geçmiş zaman biçimi vardır (go → went, have → had). Be fiilinin geçmiş hâli was/were'dir.

When? We use it to talk about places we visited in the past, what we did there, and what the situation was like (weather, crowds, etc.).

Sıfatları karşılaştırırken kısa sıfatlara (tek heceli) genellikle -er eklenir (big → bigger); -y ile bitenlerde y, i'ye döner ve -er eklenir (busy → busier). İki heceden uzun sıfatlarda more + sıfat kullanılır (relaxing → more relaxing). Karşılaştırılan iki şey arasında 'than' kullanılır.

A Great Day in the City Centre

My name is Aslı, and last Saturday I visited the city centre with my family. We wanted to see some of the most popular attractions and recreational places in our city.

First, we went to Riverside Park, a large green area next to the river. It was much quieter than the busy streets near our house, and there was a lovely playground for my little brother. We sat on the grass and had a picnic before we walked around the lake.

After the park, we visited the City History Museum. It was more interesting than I expected! There were old photos of our city from a hundred years ago, and a friendly guide explained how the neighbourhood changed over time. My favourite part was the model of the old market square.

In the afternoon, we went to Central Mall, the biggest shopping centre in our city. It was more crowded than the museum, but it had a cinema, a food court, and dozens of shops. We watched a film and ate dinner there before we went home.

It was a great day. The park was more relaxing than the mall, but the museum taught me the most about my own city. Next time, I want to visit the old castle on the hill — I've heard it's even more beautiful than the museum.

After that, Mr Kaya remembered that the library book was due back that day. They hurried to the library, which was busier than usual because of a children's story time. Elif loved choosing three new books before they left.

Their last stop was the community centre, where Elif's mother works as a volunteer. The centre offers free English classes, a food bank, and after-school clubs for children. Mr Kaya and Elif helped set up chairs for an evening meeting before they walked home.
